To Anus,

My God, it's been quite an experience knowing you! These past years would be unnoticed except for the fact that your "live it up" attitude has made them a little bit wild, especially for the shy, quiet, innocent, pure & untouched Booty that I am! Best of luck always, Wonka better take you to the prom. If not, maybe I'll loan you my lawn chair, or we can clear the weeds growing under the tree.... I hope you make the best of your dreams ~~contest~~, I pray that Larry agrees to give it up. ↑

Fad Expressions

FADS are ways for students to express themselves. They are trivial, current, kicky, occasionally poignant, trendy, both fashionable and "anti-fashionable," sometimes outrageously expensive, popular, and just plain fun. While '82 was a takeoff on physical fitness and '83's fads mimicked the flashdance look - ripped sweat-shirts, - 1984's fads were influenced by music groups, notably Michael Jackson and the Jacksons, Boy George and Culture Club, Prince, and some punk rockers. And students imitated them in droves to the chagrin and delight of parents and teachers.

Parrish Cochran displays his Michael Jackson jacket - the more zippers, the better. Other students plumed themselves with "fat shoelaces" in pinks, greens, purples, oranges, and colors so incandescently bright that they literally glowed in the dark.

Lunchroom Favorites

Favorite Rock Group: Duran Duran

Favorite Soul Group: New Edition

Favorite Radio Station: 92X FM

Favorite DJ: Suzy Wadd

Best Student Male Dancer: Eric Cain

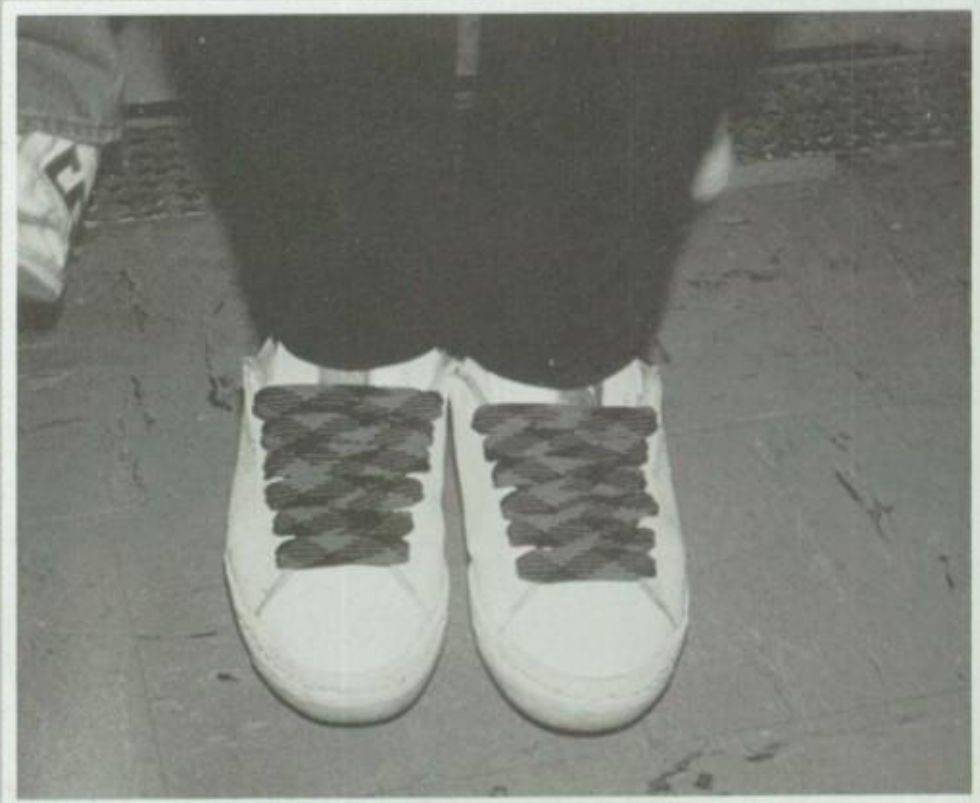

Best Student Female Dancer: Gloretta Cross

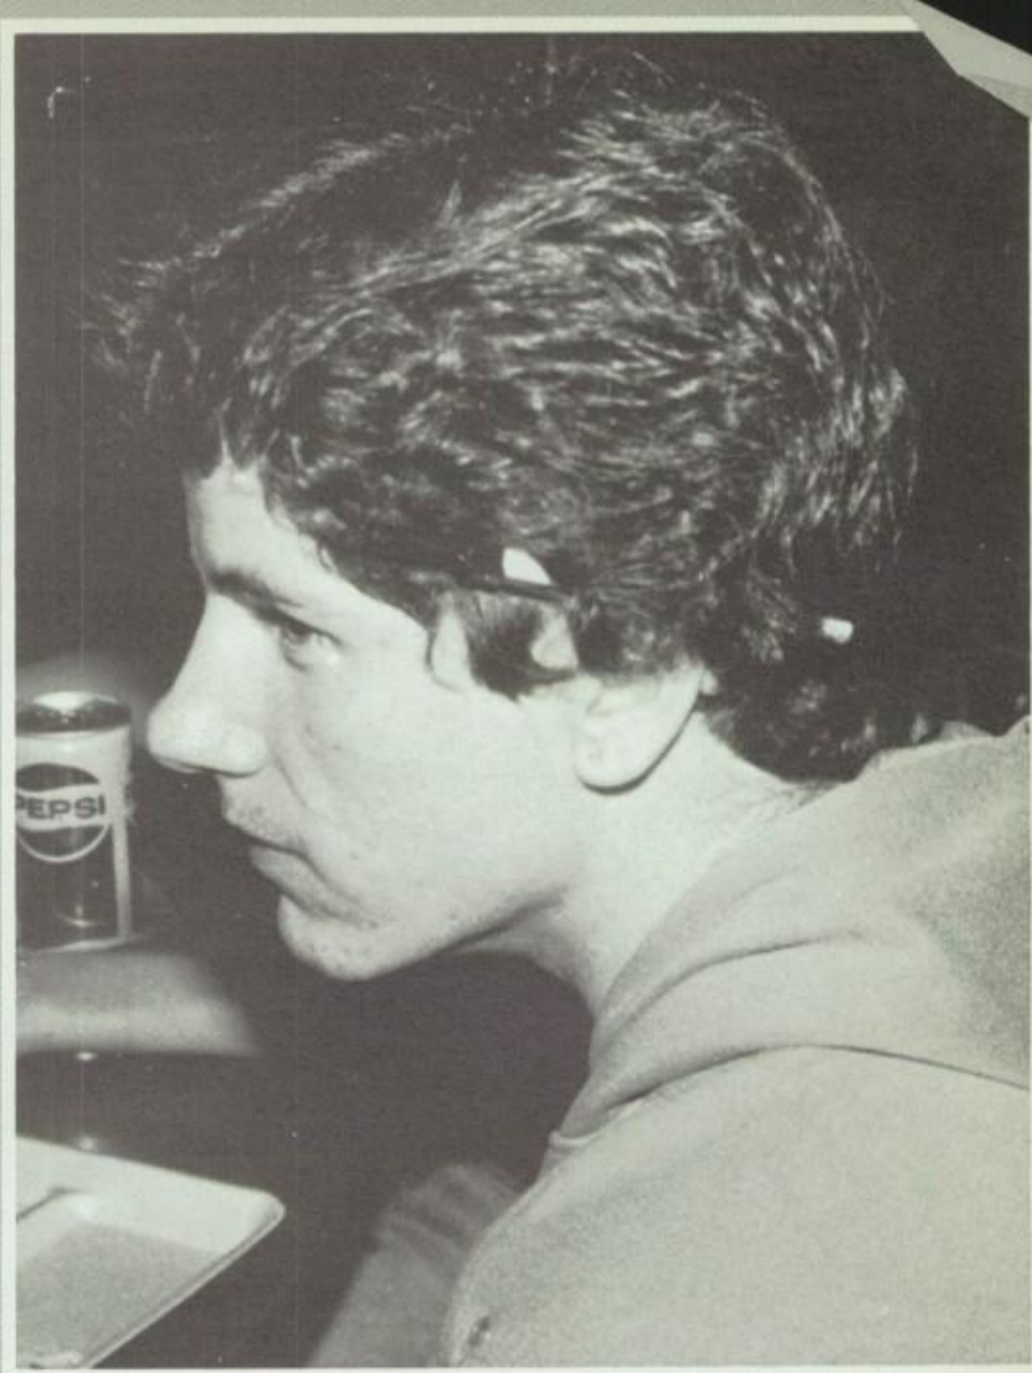

Favorite Top 40 Song: "Like A Virgin" by Madonna

Best Past Concert of the Year: Kiss

Favorite TV Show: The Bill Cosby Show

Favorite Movie: Beverly Hills Cop

FADS included ears and earrings - scads of them . . . (earrings that is). They were enormous this year - bright, flashy, with primitive styling. Large jeweled stones were unblushingly fake. Both boys and girls sported the "in jewelry" that boasted asymmetrical piercing of the ears - two holes in one ear, for example, and three in the other. Debbie Fowlkes, a tenth grader, had an unbelievable eight holes in one ear to the distinct displeasure of her mother.

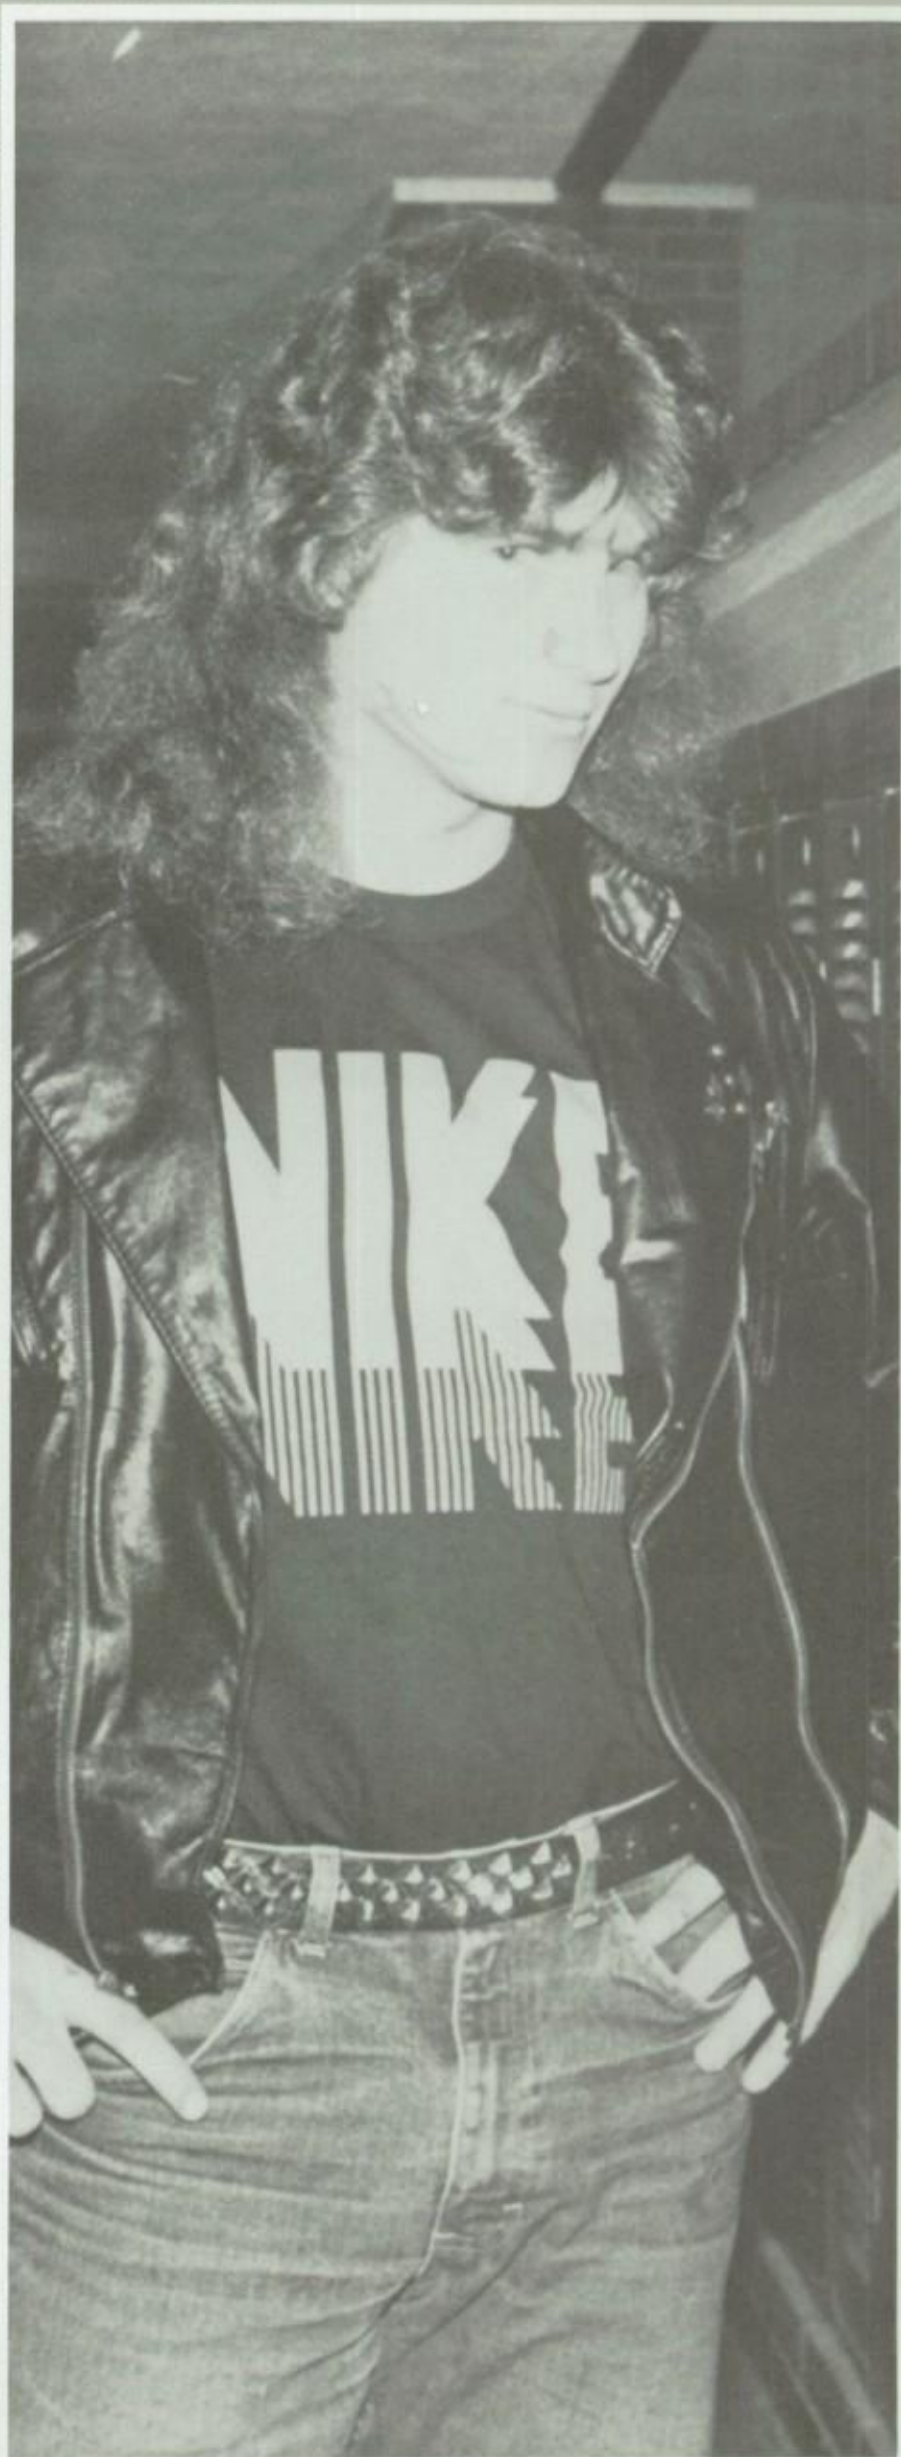

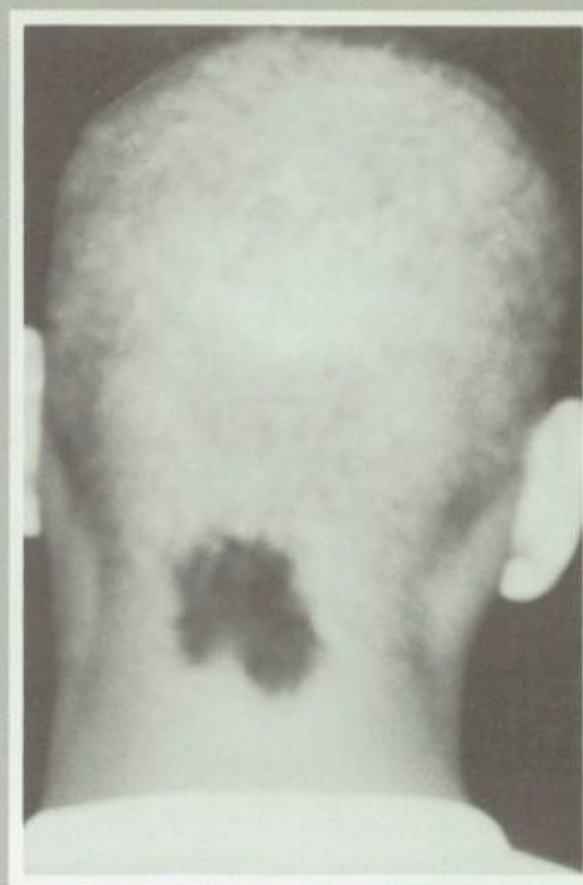

ADS covered legs as bleached out pants. Take a perfectly good pair of jeans and bleach out one leg repeatedly until you have the two-toned look pictured above. But as one student remarked who was not completely "in fad-uated" with this style, "If you have only 3 pairs of jeans, then you are reduced to two because everyone will remember when you wear the bleach out ones. They're so conspicuous." Nonetheless, some enthusiasts went as far as to use the bleached out pant as a writing surface and had all their friends initial their leg.

ADS were shiny like studs — studs on belts, arm bands, jackets, boots and lots of shiny zippers. That was definitely a take-off from the "heavy-metalers" or "punk-rockers."

Popular Dances: Break-Dancing The Snake

FADS were tails, human hair tails. A spectator at one of Marion-Franklin's football games commented, "I thought the barber had missed a spot," as he watched tails trail down student's backs — long tails falling from perfectly normal "preppie cuts" from the front view to surprise a bypasser from the rear view, or short tufts on bald heads. Tails were in, and in bleached colors to contrast with the rest of the hair or wild colors like orange and green on both girls and boys, the conservative student and somewhat boisterous ones.

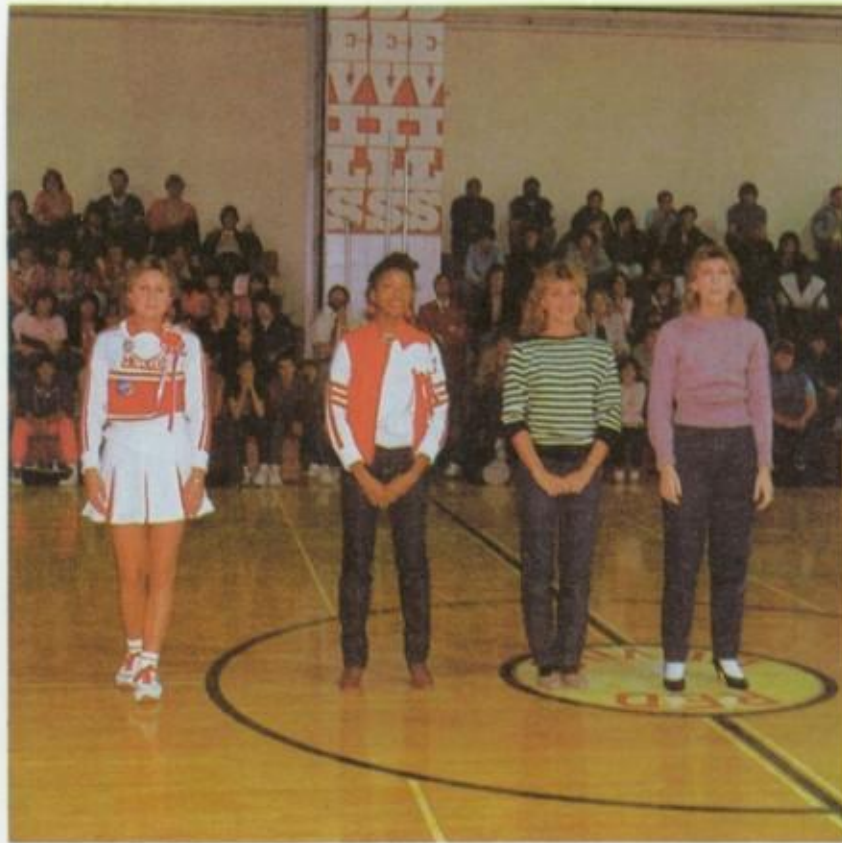

Punk cuts often accompanied the tails. Hair was trimmed to one inch so that it would stand up all over the head like a porcupine, with and without tails, of course.

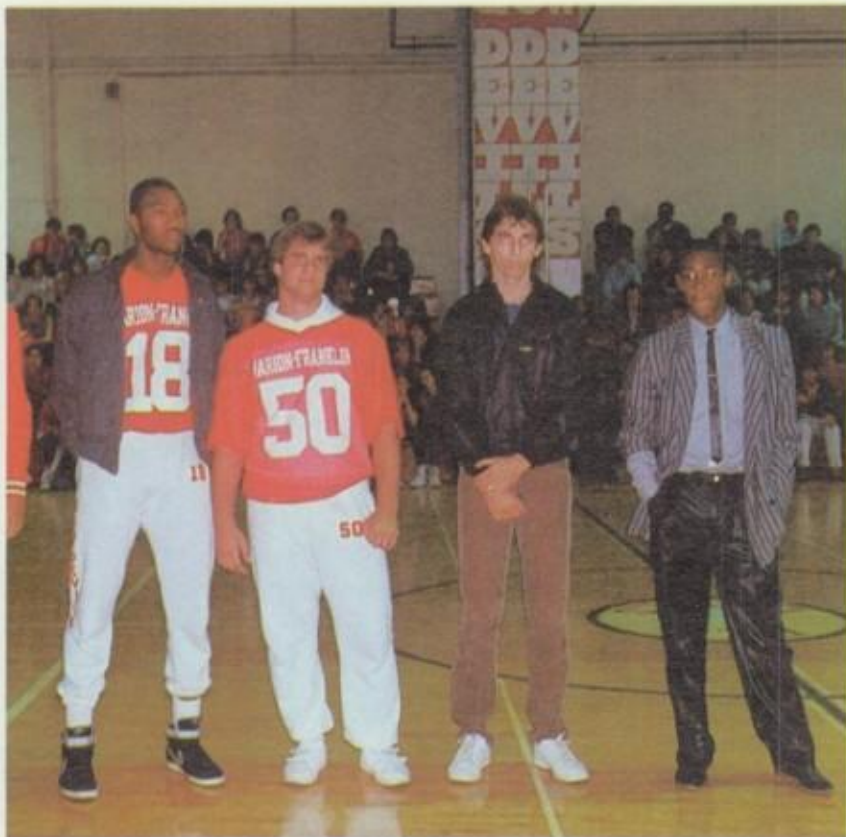

Cropped heads were fashionable, too, cropped close to the skull, then etched with designs like arrows, seams, victory signs, etc . . . , with and without tails.

Homecoming Assemblies and

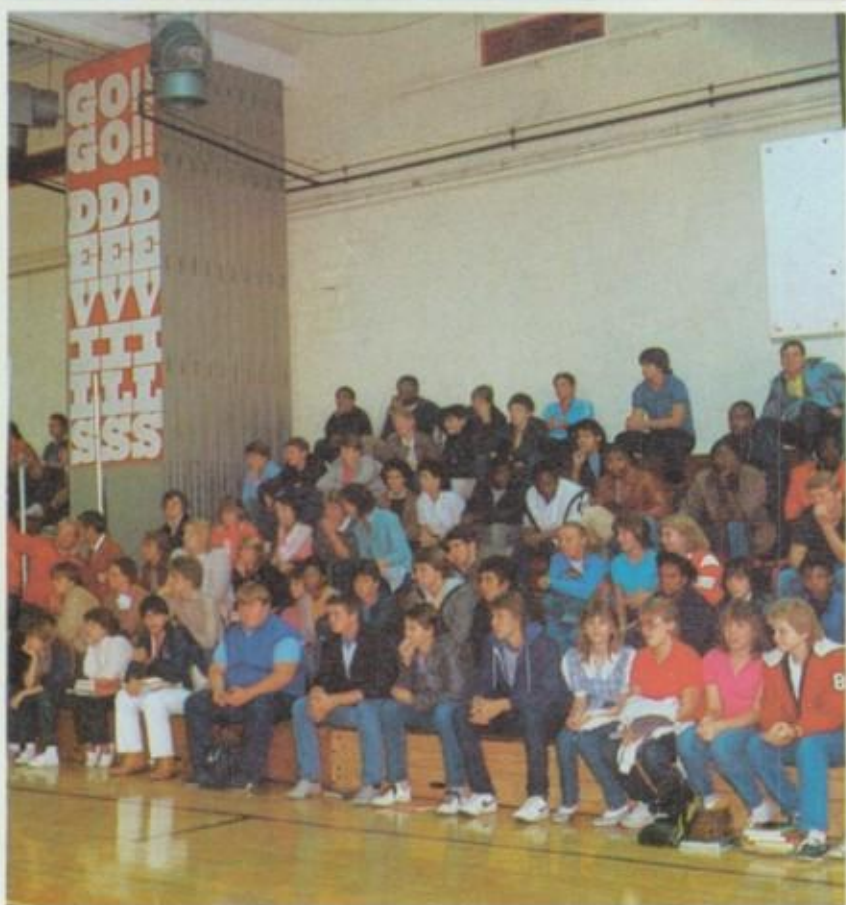

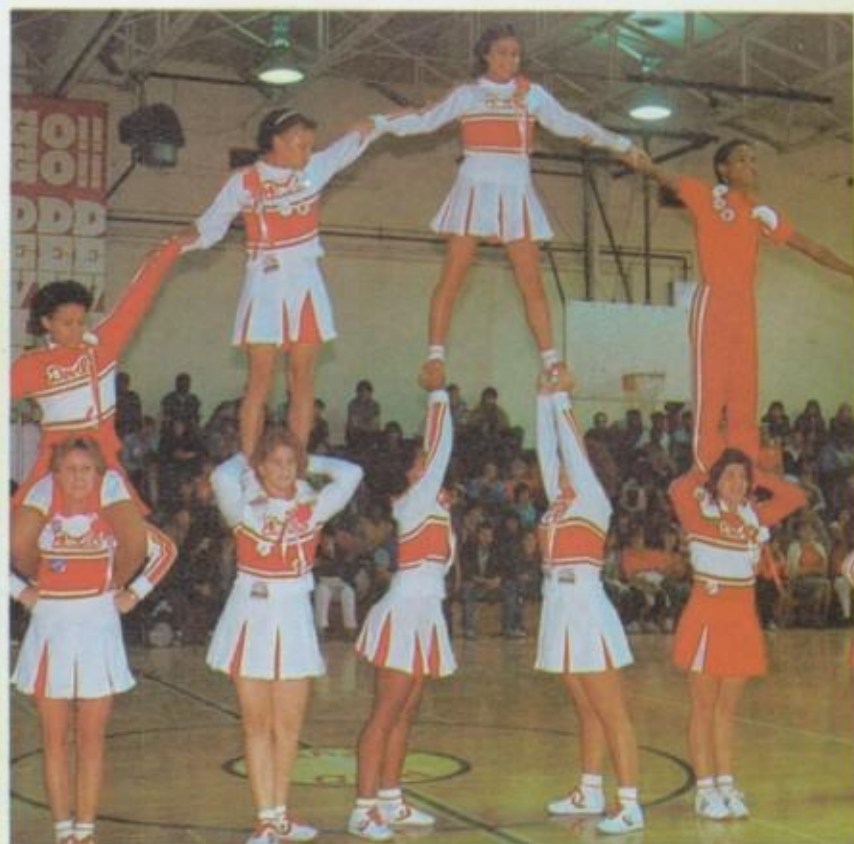

The Poms (Parents of Marionettes) sponsored the annual Marion-Franklin homecoming parade. They also originated the idea, organized the parade and paid for it. They do it as a service project for the school and the community, not just as an event for the Marionettes. This year's parade took two months to plan and showed lots of spirit. Mr. Carter was the Grand Marshall. The Briggs High School Marching band participated as the visiting band, and the Senior Class won best float.

Parades ... lots of spirit

Marion Franklin pep rally assemblies have just as much or more spirit than any other school. Depending on the season, the rallies, emceed by activities' coordinator Jack Harris, spotlighted championship winning basketball teams, wrestling teams, football teams, homecoming candidates, slam dunking contests, break-dancing contests, award-winning Marionettes, crazy cheerleaders, and much more. The rallies were attended by students, teachers, parents, and news reporters.

FADS were hats and crazy buttons. The more and crazier the buttons and hats, the better. The goal was to completely cover your jacket with so many buttons that you looked like one big walking button.

Administration

Principals

Principal - Mr. Carter

Vice Principal - Mr. Newman

Vice Principal - Mr. Tankovich

Mr. Carter planned this year to continue to improve student achievement in our school. He planned to do this through improving our instructional program, providing tutoring for students who need help and by having organized study groups. He also planned to give our students more exposure and hands-on experience in the area of career planning and career development.

"Everyone has inside a piece of good news! The good news is that you really don't know how great you can be, how much you can love, what you can accomplish, and what your potential is."

"When we teach a child to read, our primary aim is not to enable him to decipher a way-bill or receipt, but to kindle his imagination, enlarge his vision, and open for him the avenue of knowledge."

Charles Elliot

Mr. Newman planned to help the new staff members as much as possible as they adjust to a new situation. "They are a fine group and all seem to be making an excellent adjustment and are making a positive contribution." We will continue to be guided by those actions that lead to an educational atmosphere, at Marion-Franklin.

He wished that each student would make the most of his or her educational opportunity. Students should set their goals high. "If you were willing to sacrifice and work hard you could achieve whatever you wished. The opportunities are unlimited."

He hoped that the staff accepted each student at his or her present level of understanding to encourage and guide them as they developed. "Teachers should insist on quality work from them. And, in all ways the staff should set a proper example for the young people in our charge."

Mr. Tankovich - Mr. Tankovich is a new vice principal at Marion-Franklin. He is 36, married, and has two children. He feels that the students are courteous, friendly, and well-behaved. His first degree was a Bachelors of Science from Ohio State University in 1969. Then he received a Master's in Math Education in 1974. He has been at two schools: Linmoor as a math teacher, and then at East as an assistant principal. His job here is to improve students and teacher instruction. These are his goals: improve student and teacher performance and emphasize education to the students. Education is very important. All students may not realize it at this time, but to receive a good education will help in the future.

Administrative Assistants

Mrs. Ferrell was one of the administrative assistants at Marion-Franklin and also the first female administrator at the school. Her responsibilities included the following: discipline, student service, and athletic service. One of her pet projects was the school newsletter and study hall cuts. "We are observing Marion-Franklin to see what we can do to improve the academic standing of students."

Mrs. Ferrell has been an educator for 18 years. She has a BA in English and a MA in Administration from Ohio State University. She has taught at Hiltonia Middle School, Eastmoor Middle School, and the Columbus Alternative High School. She looked forward to a good year because the seniors have great potential.

Mr. Harris was one of the administrative assistants, but he is not new to Marion-Franklin. He was charged with athletics and school activities. He also handled discipline and guidance. Mr. Harris has been in education for 13 years, starting his career at Marion-Franklin as a student teacher. For years he taught P.O.D. and History and the past eight years he was the activity coordinator. He has been to every school in the city and feels that our student body, community and teaching staff are second to none. He also felt that a lot of misinformation is floating around about the school. "We do have our fair share of guys and gals who succeed in athletics areas. The important thing is to not only impress upon seniors, but also underclassmen, the importance of education and receiving a high school diploma."

Mr. Starinchak was also new to Marion-Franklin and new to the Columbus Public Schools. His last assignment was as principal of Granville High School. "Marion-Franklin offers a great challenge in educating children and should have the best possible teaching personnel." His past assignment focused on attendance and discipline. His current assignment is a good orientation to the Columbus Public Schools. His goals were to improve attitudes toward academics by placing academics first in the minds of both teachers and students. He wanted to instill an attitude in students that a goal of performing better in the classroom would result in an improved quality of life. His hobbies include playing indoor tennis, cutting wood, and sitting in front of the fireplace.

Mr. Eich - Department Head
Mr. Eich teaches O.W.A. He is an assistant advisor for Youth-to-Youth, an organization of students which promotes a drug-free society. He also works with the Franklin County Juvenile Court psychologist. His recreational pursuits include basketball and karate.

Ms. Starks
Ms. Starks was a new teacher at Marion-Franklin. She teaches Economics /Business Law, Accounting, and the World of Business. Her goals were to teach marketable skills and concepts so the students will be literate in the business community. Her personal interests include reading, tennis, traveling, and teaching.

Mrs. Sherman
Mrs. Sherman was also new to the staff. She teaches Advanced Typing and Senior IOE. She had previously taught at North Education Center High School and said that this assignment had a lot more work. She loves to see exciting movies, grow beautiful plants, and camps out in the sticks.

Mr. Ball
He teaches OWE. He is the assistant coach for football and the head coach for both wrestling and softball.

Mrs. Harris
Her subjects are IOE Clerk and Keyboarding. She is responsible for the cheerleaders.

Education

Mr. Ferguson
Mr. Ferguson teaches OWA. He is the head baseball coach.

Mrs. Napper
She teaches the following: IOE, Steno I, Shorthand I, and Keyboarding. She involves herself in the IOE club and bowling. She is also a youth director.

Ms. Wesley
Her subjects are Keyboarding and the World of Business.

Mr. Devore
OWA, Marketing Education, and Personal Finance are the subjects he teaches.

Ms. Moore
Ms. Moore instructs COE.

Mrs. Nelson
Mrs. Nelson is in charge of Marketing Education.

Communications Department

Ms. Derrickson - Department-Head
Ms. Derrickson teaches 9th English and has the yearbook. For hobbies, she enjoys reading and racquetball.

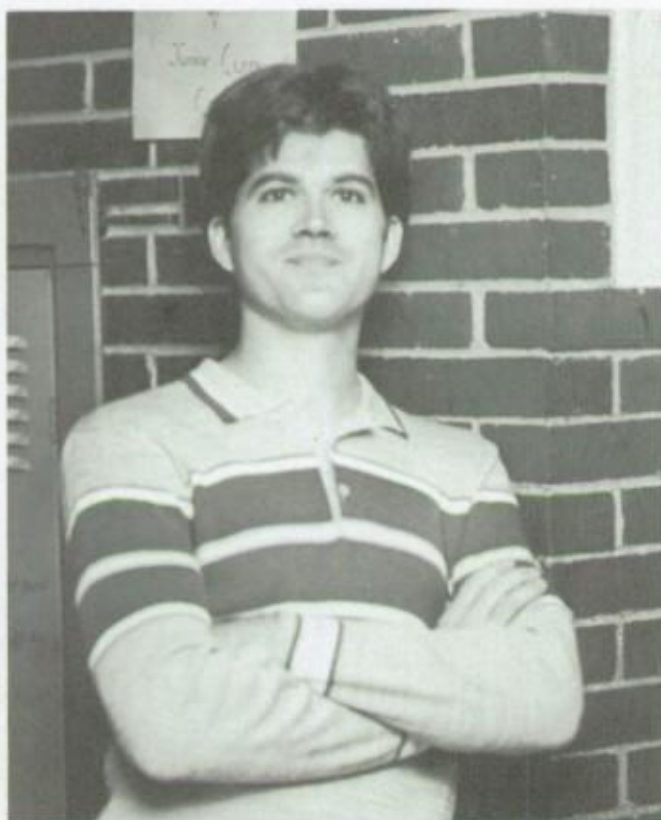

Mr. Sponaugle

Mr. Sponaugle was new to the school. Previously from Eastmoor, he has favorable impressions of our school and staff. "I respect the kids at Marion because they show a willingness to learn from and cooperate with the staff." He wants to teach critical thinking. He enjoys sports, reading, and coaches basketball.

Mrs. Woodward

Mrs. Woodward, too was new to the school. She came from Southmoor Middle and felt that the staff here is friendly and helpful. "The students are very respectful and the majority want to improve their school work." She liked the fact that all of the administration is visible in the halls, cafeteria, etc . . . , because it helped to keep down the confusion and promote orderly conduct.

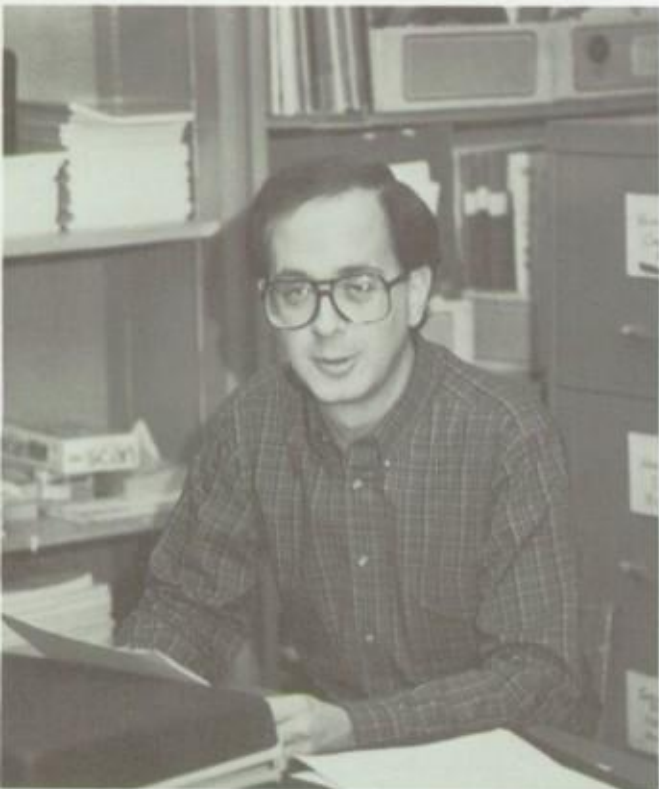

Mr. Bartels

Mr. Bartels teaches English and German. He advises for the German club and participates in the Columbus Symphony Chorus outside of school.

Ms. White

Ms. White is one of the instructors responsible for the secondary development reading program.

Mr. Schoonover

Mr. Schoonover teaches English and advises for the school newspaper, The Inferno.

Mrs. Fomby

Mrs. Fomby teaches the upper levels of English.

Mrs. McCoy

She is responsible for the media center.

Ms. Whittington

Ms. Whittington teaches English. She enjoys growing plants and completing handicraft projects.

Ms. Fauss

Ms. Fauss teaches English and Spanish and coaches the In-The-Know team.

Cultural Arts and

Mrs. Jackson heads this department. She also advises the Spanish Club and Goya. She coordinates the annual carnival for the community during Halloween.

Mr. Moebius directs the vocal music department. As a new staff member from Eastmoor Senior High, he feels that the students are well mannered, very talented, but untrained. The staff has been very supportive of him and he felt easy to work with. His goal to develop a viable high school vocal music program. His hobbies are flying and raising three girls.

Mr. North teaches Art I, Art Survey, and Ceramics. He is the assistant coach of wrestling and the head coach for Reserve Football. His goal was to paint each of his students psychedelic. His favorite hobby — mud wrestling.

Mr. McKnight teaches drama, speech, and English. He also coaches track.

Mr. Washington teaches American History and French I. He co-sponsors the French Club.

Foreign Language

Mr. Geedy is the band director.

Mrs. Black teaches French I, II, and III. She is the advisor of the French Club.

Mr. Ramsey teaches painting, drawing, and art survey.

Parlez-vous Français?

Uh-Oh! They got me anyway.

Close Your eyes and pretend you're in Paris.

Math and

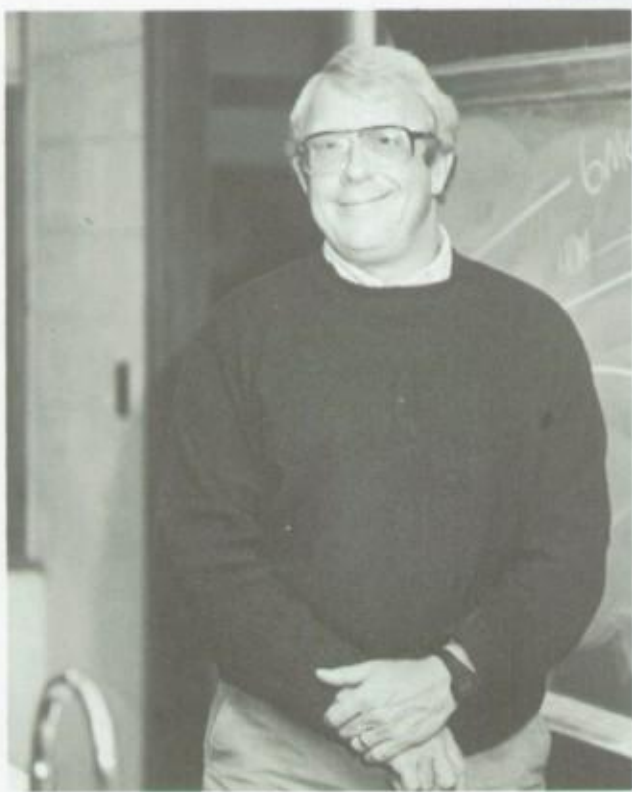

The head department of this unit is Mrs. Cooper.

Ms. Ambrose teaches Math, Algebra 1, Basic Math 1 and 2. She is new from Grandview Heights City Schools. The staff here is "congenial, easy to work with, and helpful" and students are considerate and cooperative. Her last assignment was at the elementary level and she enjoys the change. Her goals are eliminating failures, working closely with the students to set up a tutoring program, and encouraging a math interest. Her hobbies include designing the interiors of the homes, dancing, piano, and sewing.

Ms. Russell teaches physics and applied science.

Mr. Graves instructs physical science and applied physical science.

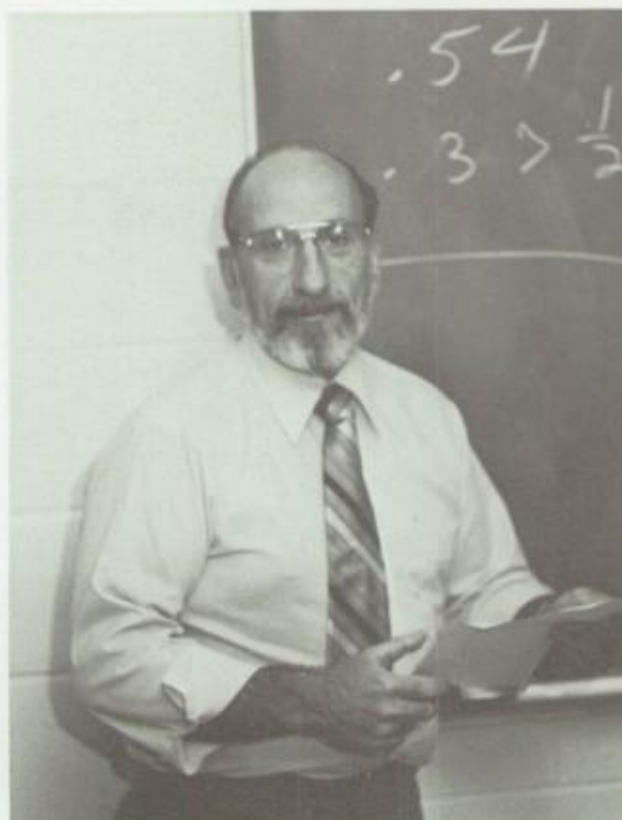

Ms. Lotz teaches Science and Chemistry.

Senior Trip to Florida

The Senior trip this year was to Orlando, Florida. The students visited Disneyworld and the Wet 'N Wild water playground. All sixteen left April 9 during spring break at 10:30 on Florida Express. Mrs. Sherman was the advisor. The weather was just o.k. Actually a couple of days, it was warmer in Columbus. Comments — "We wish we could have stayed longer."

WHAT I CAN GIVE YOU

I cannot give you cloudless skies; a life that's from cares and sighs, but I can wish you a heart that sings and the thrill of discovering beautiful things . . .

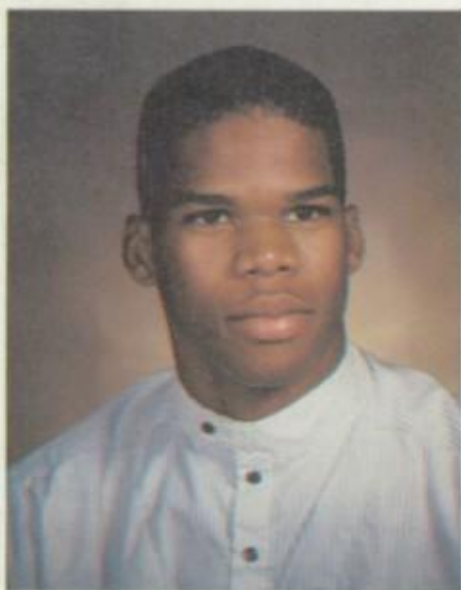

I cannot give you wealth of fame, but I can wish you just the same, laughter, love, friendly faces, and golden moments the heart embraces . . .

"The gift of knowledge helps you reach new heights of happiness, new dimensions of life." Far away in the sunshine are my highest aspirations. I may not reach them, but I can look up and see their beauty, believe in them and try to follow where they lead.

I'm Gina Raver. My favorite foods are prime ribs and M&M's and baton twirling is my hobby. My favorite television show is the Love Boat and The Outsiders was my favorite movie. During my years here at Marion-Franklin I became active in the Girls Glee, Majorettes, and the Jr. Sr. Choir. I would like to see quiet periods omitted and more students getting involved in extracurricular activities. The best time I had here was when a dozen of red roses were sent to me at the homecoming halftime rehearsal. Once I leave high school I plan on attending Mount Carmel Nursing School and pursuing a career as a R.N. If I could give any advice to underclassmen, it would be to take challenging courses so you will be well prepared for college.

Yolanda Gallaher

Michael Miller

Hello. My name is Curtis Brown. My favorite pastime is eating pizza, dancing, and mixing. Video Soul is my favorite television show and Friday The 13th, Part 5 was my favorite movie. During my years at Marion-Franklin, I participated in the talent show and I was also a "Marionotte" (powder puff drill team). If I could make a change at this school it would be to shorten the time. After I leave high school I plan on becoming an interior decorator. My most valuable advice to all underclassmen is, "Don't Mess Up!"

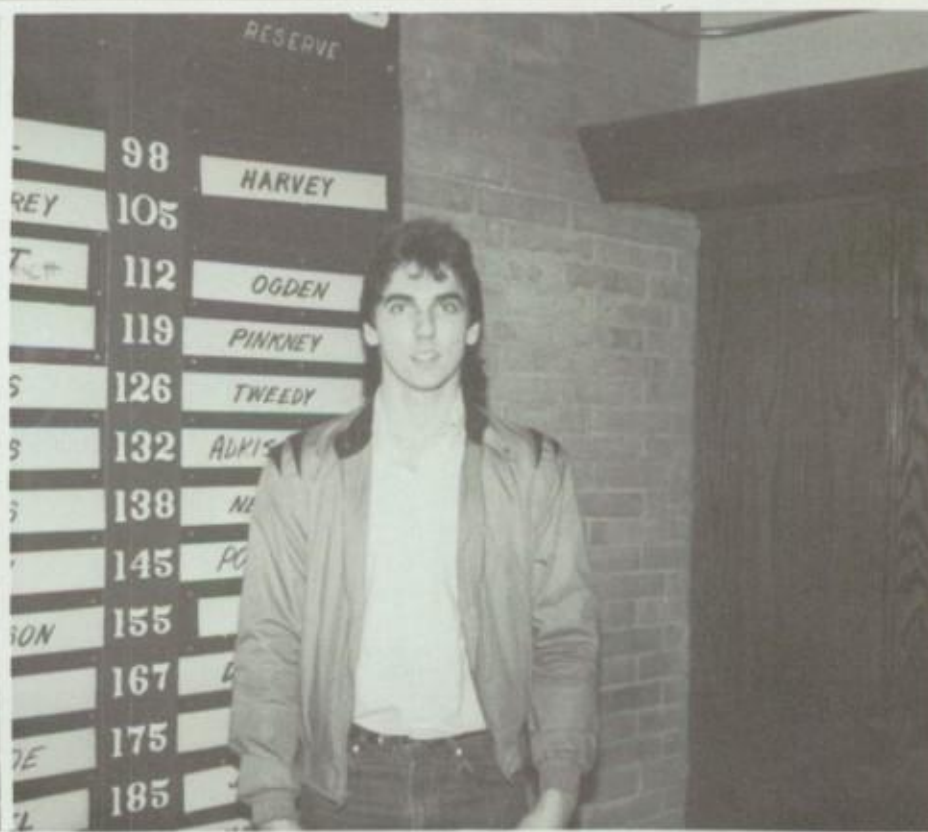

Von Roddy's favorite food is pizza. Basketball and football are his hobbies. His favorite television show is the Cosby Show and Purple Rain is his favorite movie. While at Marion-Franklin, Von enjoyed playing football and basketball but now that he's out, he'd rather be a bum (we hope that he's just kidding).

Melissa Ward

Gary Smith

Kim Jude enjoys eating steak, swimming, and watching Knots Landing. Her favorite movie is the Rocky Horror Picture Show. If there was one thing that she could change at this school it would be to have cleaner facilities. Once she leaves Marion-Franklin, she plans on getting a job and move out of her home with her baby. Advice that she gives to underclassmen would be to always think positive. "You're very fortunate."

Profiles (con't)

Wantina Ward enjoys eating pizza, cooking, and sewing. Her favorite movie is Purple Rain and Miami Vice is her favorite television show. During school, she would like to change the crowded halls and feels that her best time at this school was when she passed Fillinger's class. Once she leaves high school she plans on attending Columbus School of Art & Design and her advice to all new students is to put school before activities.

Mike Miles says he loves pizza and french fries (as long as they are not the school's). He excels in golf. His other pursuits include baseball, German, and he was a member of the Honor Society. In his opinion, lunch periods should be open and there should be a weighted grading system. His best time here was during his freshmen year while he played baseball. He tries never to miss Miami Vice and claims Nightmare On Elm Street and Beverly Hills Cop as his favorite movies. He left some weighty advice to underclassmen: School should be challenging all four years; don't give up during your senior year like I did.

Tanya Wakefield, like just about every other senior, loves pizza and music. And just like every other senior, she loves Miami Vice, The Cosby Show, the movies Purple Rain, and Beverly Hills Cop. Her list of involvements here at the school include choir, the French Club, Friends Club, and the Marionettes with the Marionettes being ranked as one of her best. She plans to become a pediatrician. "Work hard to keep your grades up, participate in school activities, and have fun," she counsels underclassmen.

▲This is Tora Ross, a 10th grader who loves pizza and hamburgers. Her hobby is "acting a fool." Her favorite TV shows are Webster, Gimme a Break, and Family Ties. As far as movies, she liked Officer and a Gentleman & Purple Rain. Tora is very active participating in basketball, Mat-Stats, cross country, and track. If she could change one thing at Marion, it would be to eliminate Saturday schools. Her advice to underclassmen is to learn so you can hurry up and get out.

The best time she has had at school occurred last year at the basketball tournament. She wants to get a full time job, a car, and to go to CTI. It's really an honor and it's nice to know that the teachers and faculty do appreciate the students by awarding the Citizen of the Month. I really don't know why the teachers chose me as one recipient, so I guess it really depends on what they feel I did. At the time I received this award so many things were going on that I really didn't know there was a citizen of the month. I will not change the way I act. I got this award for my good qualities, so why would I want to change them. I am what I am and no one can change that.

As a ninth grader Delmar Stacy felt that the best changes that could be made at the school were to make it shorter. Spring and Christmas breaks were peak times for him and he feels that he will be happier once he leaves. He suggests that incoming ninth graders get through and good luck.

Drema Hayes loves pizza, steak, and softball. She enjoys watching Dallas, Different Strokes, and the movie Hard to Hold. These are the changes she has planned for herself: improve her grades, start knowing people, and learn computers. The class of '88 is great.

Haskell Patrick (front) didn't have much to say. Robert Morgan does like pizza and wood working. The Cosby show is his favorite and he loved the movie Police Academy. He plans to get a good paying job once he graduates.

Craig Weir likes pizza. The only other things that he likes are television and football, period.

Jim Noel had a few more goals. He likes spaghetti. He likes playing tennis and wrestling. He enjoys Simon and Simon and The Fall Guy on the tube and loved Red Dawn and Vision Quest at the movies. His constructive criticism of the school included requests for longer breaks in between classes and stricter discipline. He wants to go to college and study welding. He advises students to study hard, get good grades, and graduate as soon as possible.

These are Philip Johnson's favorite foods: pizza, ice cream, steak. His favorite sports: baseball, football, basketball, wrestling. His favorite television shows: Cosby show, Jeffersons, Alice. Favorite movies: Rambo, First Blood. He regrets that he was not involved in any activities this year but plans to involve himself in sports next year. So far his best time was during the Powder Puff game. He plans to play sports and get a good job when he leaves, get good grades, and stay out of trouble.

Bonnie Lemaster feels that we should have more classes to choose from and stricter rules about students sleeping in classes. She has plans to attend UCLA and become an attorney. Her first pep rally was her most exciting time at school. She also enjoys watermelon, Culture Club, Mork and Mindy, and the movie A Sure Thing.

Donald Martin is a black belt in Kung-Fu, but he also loves chinese food and pizza. It's Your Move, Simon and Simon, Hunter, and V are favorite tube shows, while Stars Wars, Raiders of the Lost Ark, and Temple of Doom are favortie flicks. He wants to improve the science atmosphere at school and he wants to embarrass Darryl Coats more. The two of them plan to join the marines when they graduate.

Jeff Barnhart did not have any thing positive to say about school other than he would be glad when he graduated. He would rather be at home eating pizza, playing basketball, or listening to music. He is a fan of The Cosby Show and Cheers, and he considers the movies Ghostbuster and Police Academy his favorites. Advice: Quit while you ahead.

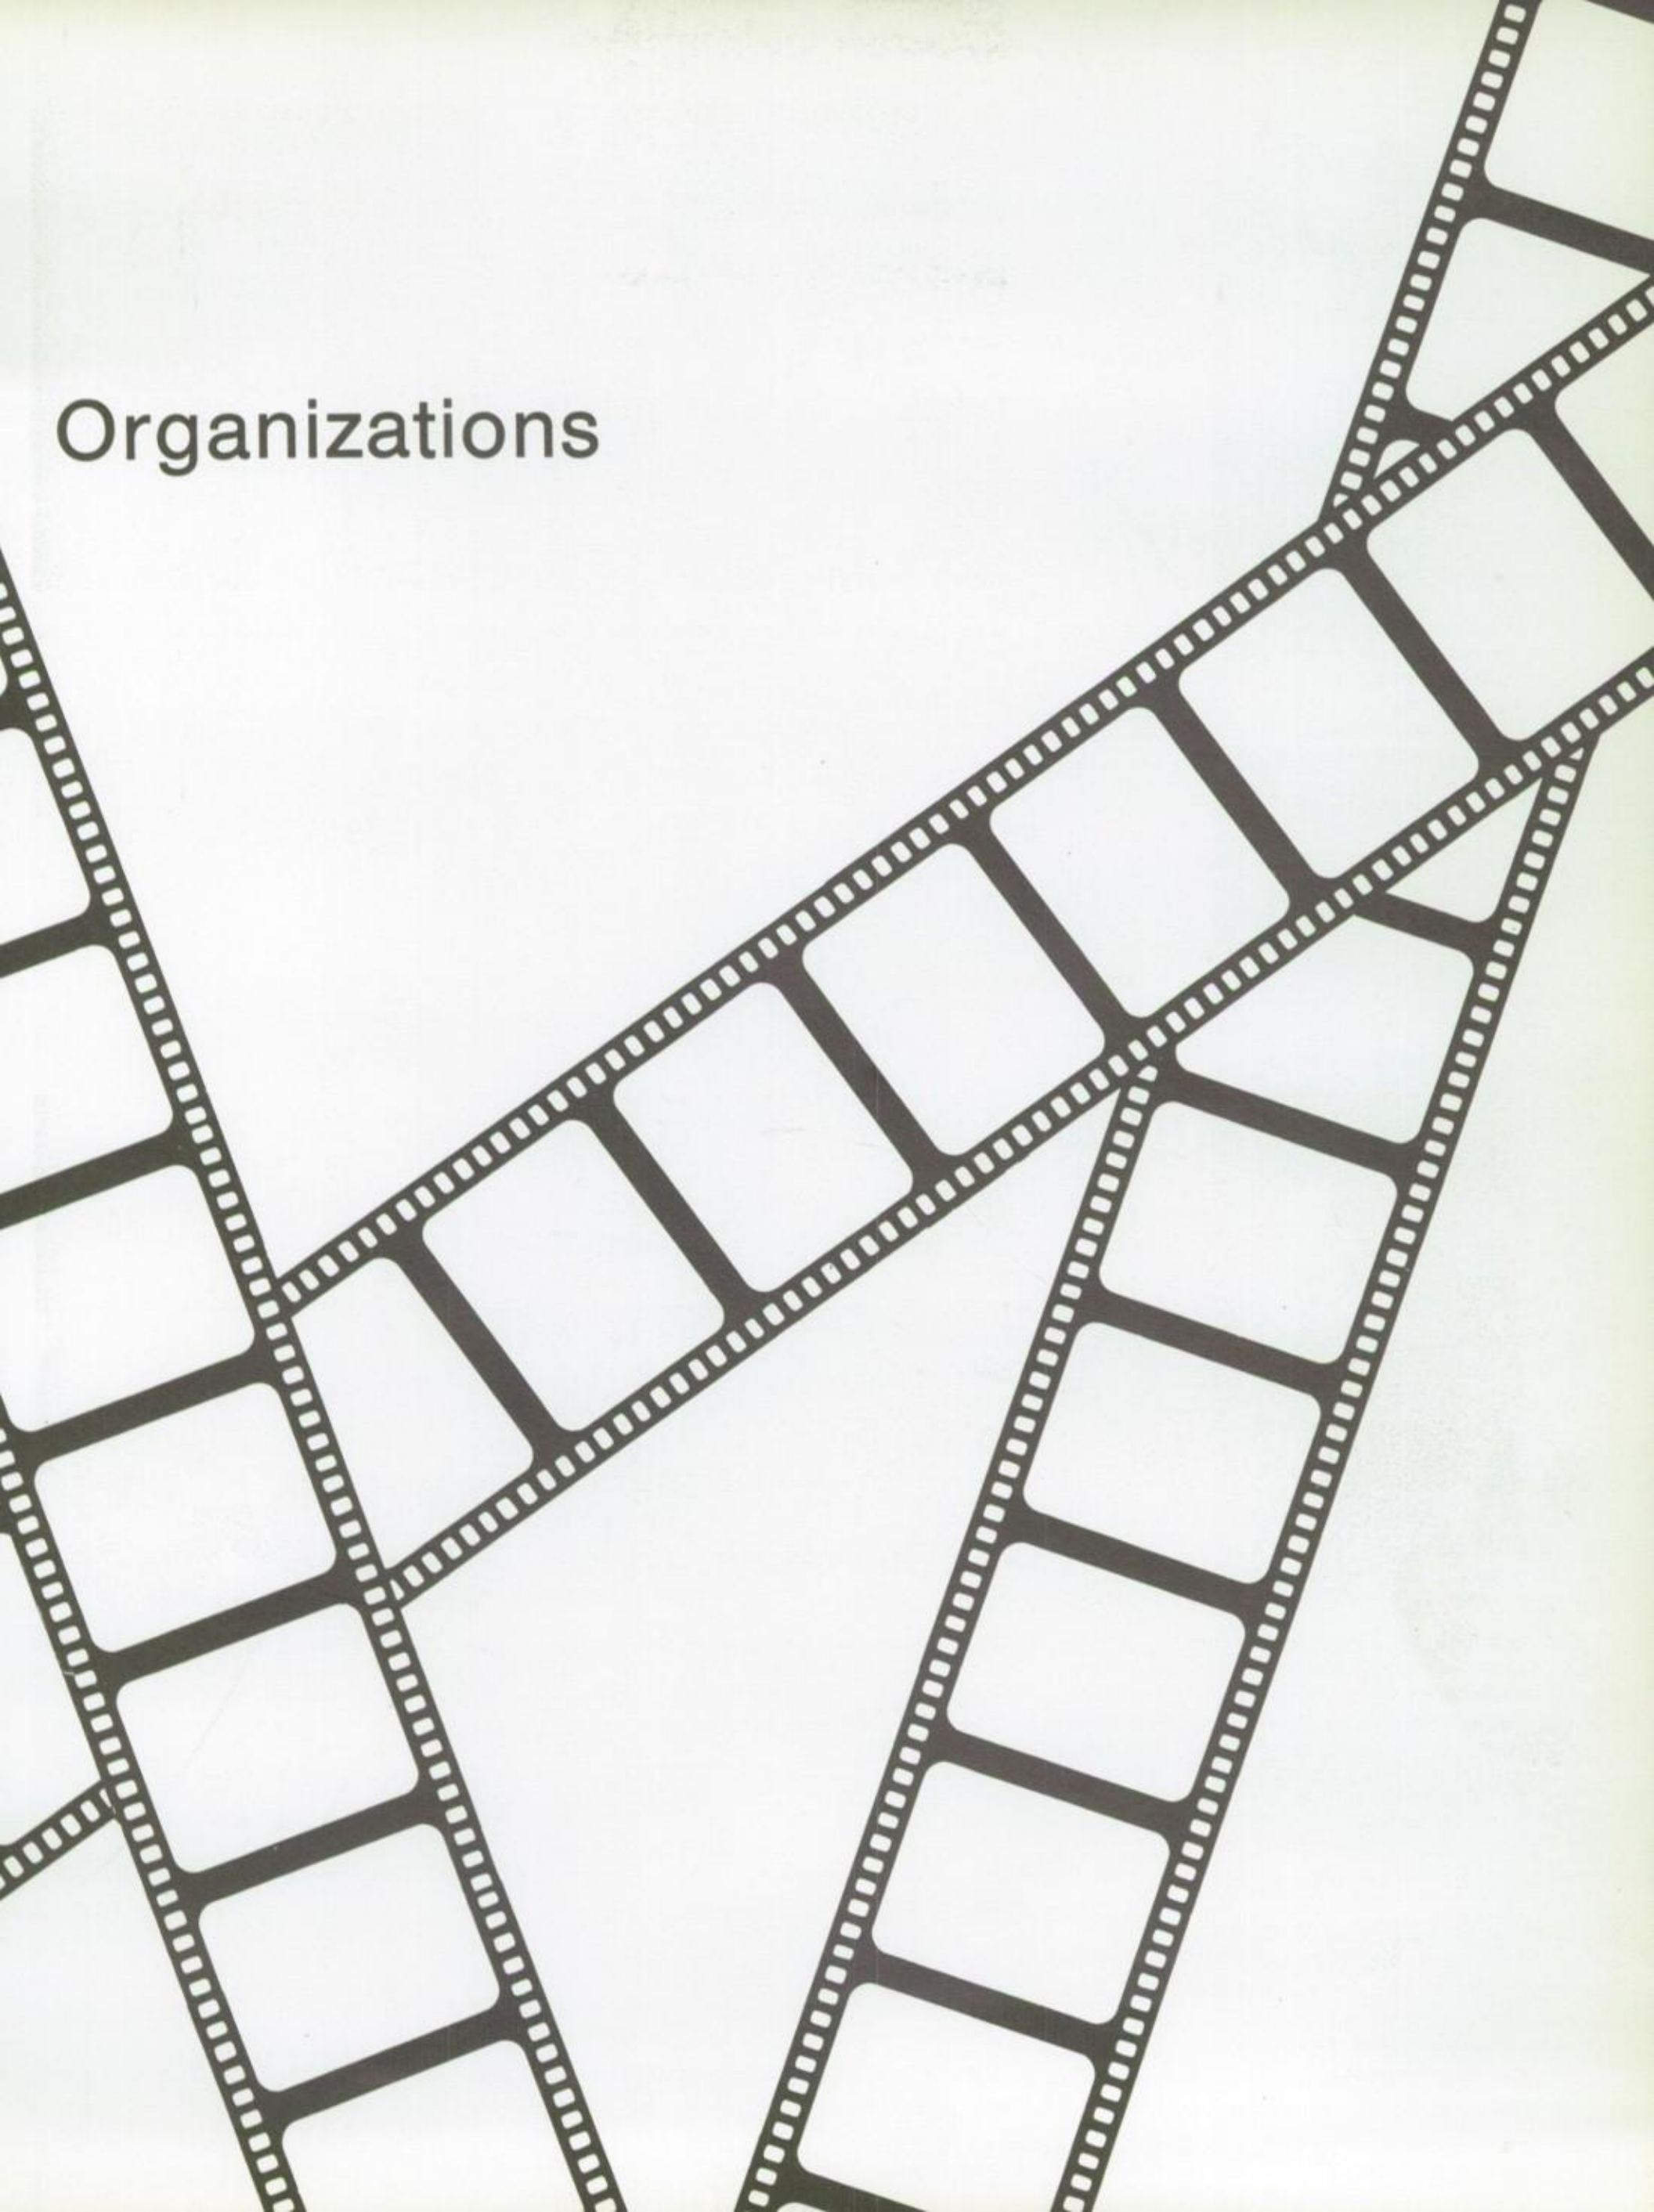

Angie Ebbrecht was very involved in the school in track, girl's glee, and batton. The most memorable time, in fact, was when she made the track team. She's very interested in making the most of her schooling. She likes pizza, the Dukes of Hazard, and Guiding Light.

Marc Preston wants to do good work, keep up his work, and stay out of trouble. He wants to follow in his father's footsteps. He dislikes quiet periods, but loved telling jokes at lunch. Pizza and tacos are his favorites. For hobbies he builds model cars, that is when he's not watching The Cosby show or Miami Vice. His best movies — Police Academy II and Friday the 13, part V.

In The Know

By Brian Gifford

On Wednesday, November 1st, Marion-Franklin's In The Know team went up against the Eastmoor team and won, 120-115.

The players answered history, science, and nature, and English and literature questions for 5, 10, 15, and 20 point values, depending on the difficulty of the questions.

At one point in the game Marion-Franklin led by about 25 points, but near the end, the lead narrowed and at the buzzer Marion-Franklin had won by only 5 points.

Our team really benefitted from the support of students, teachers, and parents. Mr. North made a banner to take to the match, and Ms. Derrickson took pictures. Ms. Fauss, advisor, deserves a special word of thanks, and Ms. Jessup also contributed by helping when Ms. Fauss couldn't be at the meetings. In all, Marion-Franklin brought about 20 people to the Eastmoor game.

With this win, Marion-Franklin advanced to the second round and played West Muskingum.

This is the first year as the advisor of the squad for Ms. Fauss. Initially, she had no materials and had to start from scratch using game questions from Trivial Pursuit. But now with the first year past, both she and the team are excited about the future.

"We continued to prepare long after the season and plan to scrimmage even during our lunch periods. The interest generated in the team has been exciting. We particularly are interested in freshman so we can train them for four years."

First row - Ms. Derrickson, Tia Pullien, Dawn Williams, Cindy Chandler, Karla Young, Second row - Bernie White, Herb Pinkney, James Harrelson

We put together your expressions '85 yearbook. It was a learning experience for the staff because with the exception of Karla Young all were freshmen. Everyone did a bit of everything but there were a few specialties: Bernie — layouts; Dawn and Cindy — layouts and typing; Herb — photography, and layouts; Tia thought of the name of the book and did most of the typing; and Karla — a-jack-of-all-trades.

Dawn: Her favorite foods are pizza and all seafoods and she loves skating. General Hospital is her favorite t.v. show; Breakin II and Vision Quest are her favorite movies. Right now, her goals are to graduate and pursue a career in business.

Cindy: Cindy loves pizza, tacos, french fries and roller skating and The Guiding Light, and Vision Quest. She feels tht the quiet periods are a nuisance. Her goals - to graduate and get a good job.

Herb: His hobby is working with his hands. He also enjoys The Bill Cosby Show and the movie, The Last Dragon. During his freshman year, he became active in Wrestling and Baseball, and he wished that there were even more activities. So far, the best time was when he won third in the state Wrestling. When he leaves school, he wants to become great at what ever he pursues. Advice to new students or underclassmen: Be as good as me and you will go far.

Karla: Karla loves pizza and McDonald's and going to parties. She never misses the Cosby Show, and enjoyed Friday 13th, part 5 and Purple Rain. She would also like to change the quiet periods. Her best time here was when the basketball team went to the city, and she's thinking about attending CTI to take business management. Her advice to new students: Keep up your work and be involved in some type of activity that you like.

Bernie: Miami Vice is his favorite show and he loves football.

Tia: Her favorite foods are pickles, ice cream, hamburgers, and pineapples. Her hobby is going out shopping, her favorite t.v. show is General Hospital. She loves the movies Police Academy, and Purple Rain. So far this year she has been involved in Basketball, and Spanish Club. She thinks that anyone should be able to leave the school during their lunch period. The best time so far has been the first week of school. When she leaves here she plans to go to college. Her advice to everyone is don't let your friends hold you back or influence you from being the best that you can possibly be.

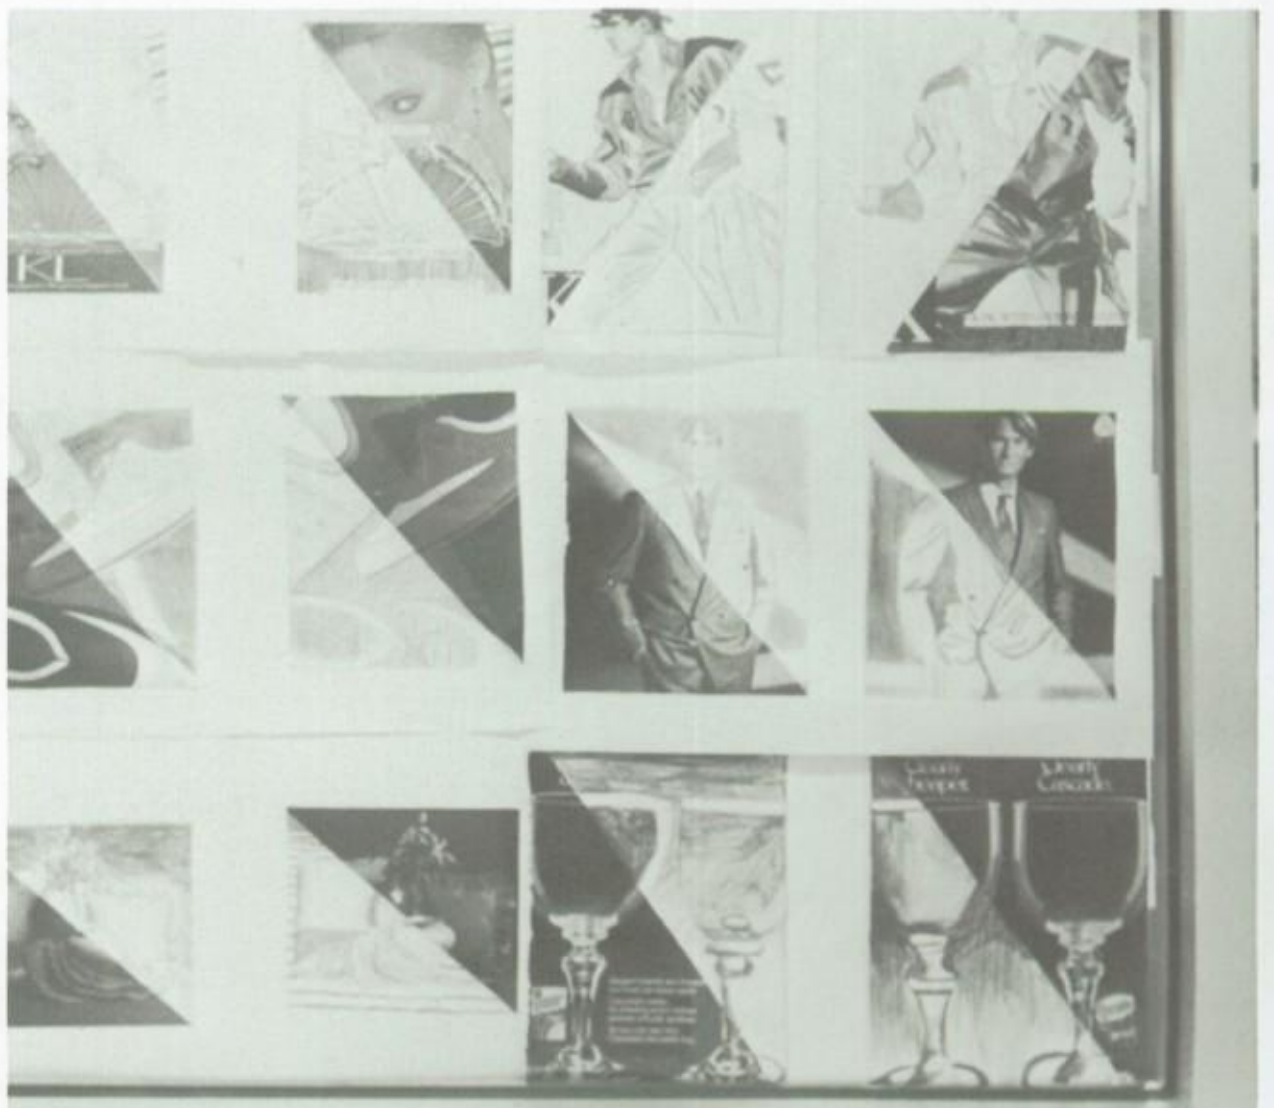

Art Club

Some of the officers of the art club include the following: Tiffany Logan and Debbie Ratliff — President; Artie Short — Court Jester. Tiffany became interested in art in the fifth grade. She was elected to this position she feels, because of her qualifications. At the time of this interview, she explained that the club had just completed a float for the parade and was planning more activities. These activities and by displaying artwork throughout the school hopefully will cultivate more interest in art. Her tentative plans are to pursue art in the college of art and design once she graduates.

Artie feels that he won his position because he had no idea he was running. His advice to other future court jesters, "Act like you never know what's going on and you'll do great." The students created sculpture pieces as one of their class projects.

To make the artworks you, "make a cardboard model, cutout the wood designs, then put it together, paper mache it, sand it, smooth the edges, arrange it the way the model is, and finally paint it," explained Mike Wycuff. The pieces should represent non-objective 3-d designs. Frank Newsome feels that putting it together is the most difficult part of the process, Keith Middleton claims that cutting it is, while Robert Wells despises macheing it.

Mr. Ramsey feels that the purpose of art in our lives and at the school is to educate us visually and to improve the surroundings and aesthetics of the school — not necessarily to train artists, but to appreciate art (Mr. North says, "uh-huh" to whatever Ramsey says.) Mr. Ramsey as the installation direct for the Governor's Art show was pleased to announce that four students from Marion out of 300 total entries become finalists: Dwayne Bradshaw, Phillip Staley, William Harris, and Robbie Wells. Phillip Staley was also selected as one of the top 25 in the 25th annual Columbus Public School Exhibit at Fort Hayes. Dale May also received scholarship to the Columbus College of Art and Design this year.

Marion-Franklin was fortunate enough to and Wednesday, the 15th and 16th for the was sponsored by the GREATER COLUM-ationally known artist who is currently ark, gave a two day workshop for the (ceramics, Sculpture, and Drawing) which work and painting techniques. Marketing Education

Row 2 - Cristie Edgington, Kandi Hatfield, Charmain Austin, Tim Barnett
Row 3 - Yvette Webster, Ms. Nelson.

DE (Distributive Education) no longer exists. It is ME (Marketing Education), now because the old work-study format didn't adequately describe the extended curriculum. ME promotes three areas: civic conscientiousness, leadership training, and vocational training. ME training enhances the academics; it demands involvement.

For example, students participated in the Jerry Lewis telethon for MS on Labor Day as telephone volunteers to fulfill civic responsibilities. They put on makeup on children in the Crippled Children's Center for Halloween and played Santa Claus during Christmas distributing gifts.

The ME "store", a first for Marion-Franklin, extends the program. By responding to the needs and demands of the market (the student body), the students become "socially aware" and participate in "civic conscientiousness."

The store "... is a crash course in entrepreneurship," explained Mrs. Nelson, the coordinator for ME. "It should make a profit." The store has a manager and an assistant manager who are responsible for scheduling "employees," displaying merchandising, and ordering some goods. The store has subsumed the "old bookstore" offering not only school supplies, but also candy, jewelry, and novelty items.

Mrs. Nelson was expecting a computer to expedite the process of running the store and hopes the store will become an outlet for organizations to sell fundraisers on consignment for the school.

Row 3 - Richard Tillis, Kevin Featherolf, Sharon Carter, Donna Barker

Goya is the Spanish National Honor Society. This year 33 members were inducted. "Goya" is the name of the Spanish individual Mrs. Jackson selected to represent the group. Each advisor is responsible for selecting his or her own namesake, and the teacher must be a member of the American Association of Teachers of Spanish and Portuguese before the school's chapter can be official.

Goya was a court painter for Southern Spain who was a realist with a sense of humor. Eventually his shenanigans got him exiled; he tended to paint people as they really were, and not exaggerate their good features. For example, he always painted royal children looking sad as if they possessed all material things but no love, but he painted farmers' children happy. He was protesting against the Catholic Church and the way they failed to redistribute the wealth they collected.

The colors used at the ceremony were red and gold; the traditional pinata was present. The three white flowers in the bouquet represent the deaths of three alumni. The candles are to inspire you "to burn with the fire of light." The motto of Goya — All for one and one for all.

French Club

The French Club left for England and France April 6 during spring break for nine days. The members were Todd Simpkins, Harry Anderson, Diane Diamond, Yolanda Jones, and Renee Marcum. (You don't have to be a member to go.) Acutally, they were scheduled to leave the fifth but bad weather delayed the trip, giving them plenty of time for group shots of parents at Port Columbus. Once in London, England, and interesting predicament occurred. They lost a student! The group met at a Burger King after shopping when they came up short one Todd Simpkins. Another group from North Carolina met there, too, and Mrs. Black finally persuaded them to leave to allow her group to look alone for the lost student. ("Good heavens," she lamented. "I don't need two groups to look after.") They trudged through the traditional dismal, rainy weather for an hour when Mrs. Black spotted a "bobby" (English police) and reported it. "Hopefully his wayward trail wouldn't lead to the redlight district a bit on the other side," he commented. A disheartened group made its way back to the hotel and surprise! There was Todd who had just arrived himself missing all of the frantic calls to the hotel.

To more pleasant news — they also visited Buckingham Palace and the Queen's guards. Later they visited Old Pirate City right before they took a ferry across the English Channel. Renee declined to surface from the quarters below because she was convinced that she would get seasick. And in the background, we have the famous Eiffel Tower built as art for the world's fair in 1891. The next trip is scheduled for '87.

The Inferno

Friends

The friends program is similar to the big-brother, little-sister concept. Marion students are matched up with younger children in the community for the purpose of establishing healthy, positive, constructive relationships with younger youth and to get them started on the right track. Some of the activities included the following: skating, COSI, YMCA, Haunted House, the movies, Burger King and others

Youth-to-Youth

The purpose of this group is to promote drug-free lives. John and David Stacy attended a summer camp for the group and then formed a chapter here. Members lecture at middle schools and elementary schools about the hazards of drugs and present a play dramatizing this. They sponsored a party to show that you can enjoy yourself drug-free. The group hopes to expand the club.

Marionettes

Mrs. McKnight is the coach for Reserve Marionettes. One of her goals is for as many of her girls as possible to make the varsity marionettes. In fact one of the highlights of coaching was to watch her girls mature to the point where they perform as well on varsity. She required her girls to practice once a week after school for several hours. In the summer, they came twice a week for two hours to prepare for summer camp which was the first of August. The try outs procedure was the same as Varsity. "I have found that being involved in an extracurricular activity has given me more overall enjoyment in my teaching vocation."

Reserve - First Row - Rank leader - Tina Dorsey, Captain Serrhonda Lockhart, Rank leader - Tracy Jackson Second Row - Head Rank leader - Mahwaun Dungey, First Lieutenant Rhonda Holmes Third row - Manager Barb Russell, Erica Hairston, Phyllis Lindsey, Renee Farley, Beth Nunnery, Tracy Cason, Advisor - Mrs. Linda McKnight Fourth row - Renetta Dyer, Tamara Collins, Kim Searles, Elaine Smedley, Shelley Shidaker

Ms. Kathy Moore is the adviser of the Varsity Marionettes. Their goals were to win city, state, and national titles. This year they won the city title. They won best inspection for the first time ever. Faith Milam won the best captain. They took second place at Groveport Invitation and best inspection there too. They also took second place at Whitehall.

To try out, they must have a 2.0 grade average. They are taught all of their skills during a 5 day practice: marching, kicks, splits, and routines. Then they create their own routines they are evaluated by a panel of 10 judges. Class behavior is also evaluated. The top 24 scores become varsity members, and the next 24 become reserve members.

Highlights include the city competition. This last year has meant more to Ms. Moore than some of the other school years. "I'm going to miss being the adviser, but I need the time to do things for myself.

It's been a tremendous experience. I've worked with outstanding young ladies every year. Being the Marionette advisor has given me the opportunity to work with the parents and community. The Marionettes and the poms have become my friends and family. My hopes are that the team can continue to be successful and the new advisor can have as much pleasure with it as I have."

Marion-Franklin is one of five schools that has an auto shop. It provides an excellent opportunity for students to become informed of automobile operations from the business side and the mechanical side. Job placement opportunities are available. This non-profit organization uses no advertising, soliciting its customers from the students, referrals, and word of mouth. The work is guaranteed and parallels that done in the private sector. Fees charged cover the cost of parts, refurbish supplies, and buy tools. The students' goal is take their national certification test by the end of their senior year to become a certified mechanic. The Marion-Franklin Auto shop provides a valuable service to the community: preparing students for the world of work and servicing motor vehicles.

Computer Club

This was the first year for the computer club. The goal was to share knowledge about computers, and then in later years, to enter programming contests. Edmund Davidson founded the club because he wanted to share software. Hopefully, the club will generate and maintain a school-wide interest in computers. The club members would like to take field trips to Warner-Qube to study the computerbased programming of the station.

The 5 remaining participants are Wes Gilliam, Eric Smith, Troy Thompson, Steve Young, and Mickey Wellman.

They also placed 3rd in the CENTRAL OHIO INDUSTRIAL ARTS SHOW 1985 at Northland Mall. Brian Merriman won 3rd place in Central Ohio. Ribbons of outstanding achievement were awarded to Steve Gillenwater, Robert Grotosky (2 ribbons) Brian Merriman, and Steve Young. Ribbons of Award of Merit were given to Walter Buzzard, Mike Caudill, West Gillam, Roy Kimbelton, Tom Maynard, Brian Merriman (2 ribbons), Brian Smith, Mike Wellman and Seve Young. The projects were shown in the main showcase.

Halloween Carnival

The annual Marion-Franklin Halloween carnival was a success as usual. Over 400 children participated in the Bottle Hoop Game, The Lucky Duck Game (pick two ducks with the same number on the bottom), Ring Toss, Pie-in-the-Face, and others. The Fun House was in the girls' locker room. The French Club sold candy with "candy worm" being a big success, and Mrs. Jackson's famous tacos were present. The band marched the parade of costumed children around the school. Help and donations from the community assisted the non-profit activity. Petland donated 500 goldfish for the game Go Fish. Other businesses have donated pizzas, hamburgers, bicycles, etc . . . Mrs. Jackson sponsors this "to get the little children off the street during the holiday" because a child was assaulted once in the area.

Columbus Symphony

The Columbus Symphony serenaded students this year as a part of an educational enrichment program to benefit youth. The Ohio Theater-based Symphony spends most of its time working in Franklin County. The group carries a full load with the busiest times occurring during the Christmas season and in the spring. Generally individual members practice 20-25 hours a week. Most of the musicians are fulltime employees with only five of six part-time positions.

Powder Puff Football

The cloudy, quite, windy day did not halt the annual Marion-Franklin powder puff game between the juniors and the seniors — the only time of the year when the student body is abused by the unsightly sight of the "Marionotts" (hairy legs and all) and the so-called cheerleaders. For a mere 25¢, the students can witness the debauchery of the junior females against the senior females. "To get a spot on the team you had to practice a week before the game, know what you were doing, really want to play, and have fun." The team captains were Delores Roberts, Tempest Jackson, and Michelle Brant. Delores scored the only touchdown for the juniors. Leslie Robinson, Penny Henry, Dana Crews, and Stephanie Jackson scored the touchdowns for the seniors. The winners — everyone; it was a great time!

1985 ACADEMIC AWARDS

Academic Awards

The Academic Awards Association honored 118 students for academic excellence during its first spring banquet held in the school cafeteria Wednesday, May 22, 1985. The first year organization of parents, community individuals, teachers, and administrators was formed to promote academics at Marion-Franklin. Monograms were purchased to present to outstanding academic students (3.5 — 4.0 grade average for 3 quarters) in each of the four grade levels. A total of sixty monograms were issued with other awards and certificates. In addition, an Academic Hall of Fame was established recognizing two former graduates who have distinguished themselves in their careers. This year's inductees were Douglas Wallace, M.D. and Susan K. Wilson, D.D.S. both members of the class of 1974. The inductees spoke to students of their academic experiences, received a plaque, and had their pictures placed on the hallway wall. The organization hopes this yearly recognition of former graduates will incite present students to strive for academic excellence.

The following students were honored: Freshman Academic Letter: Crystal Benjamin, Shirley Carroll, Dana Collins, Patricia Fairchild, Nancy Jenkins, Bobbie Kirkendoll, Andrea Lawson, Patricia Miller, Tracy Pinkard, Tia Pullien, Christine Redman, Pamela Roe, Wendy Treadway.

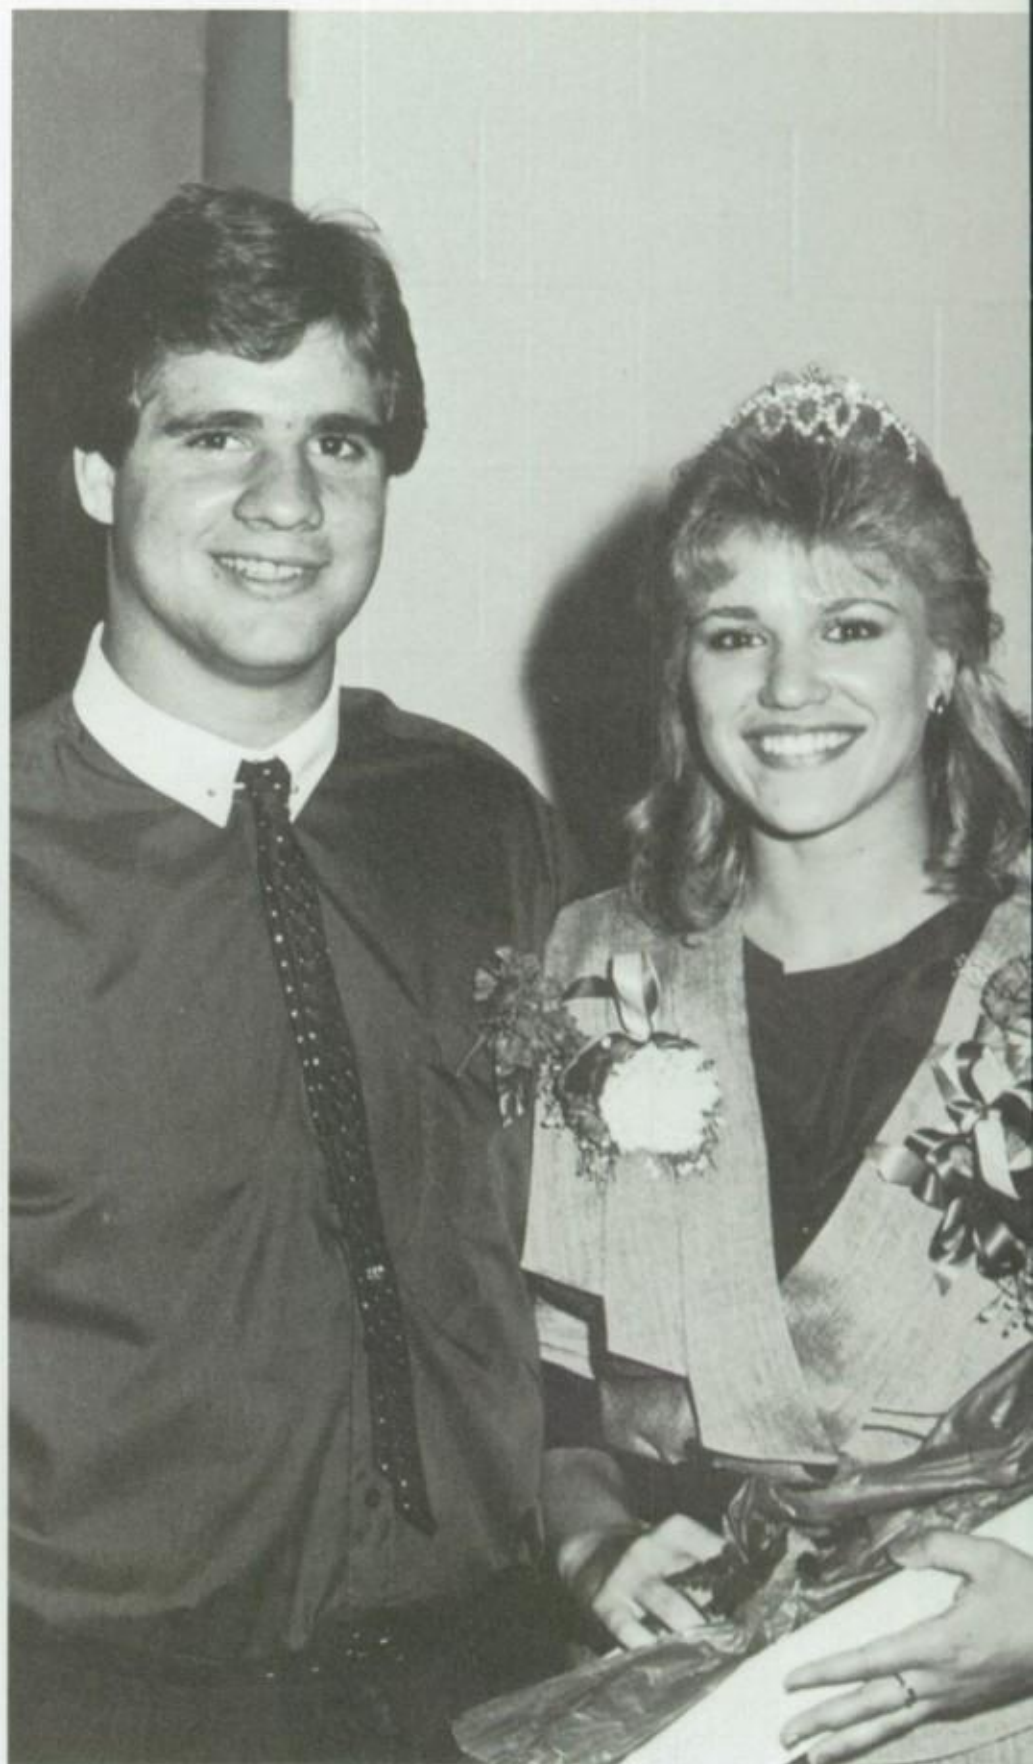

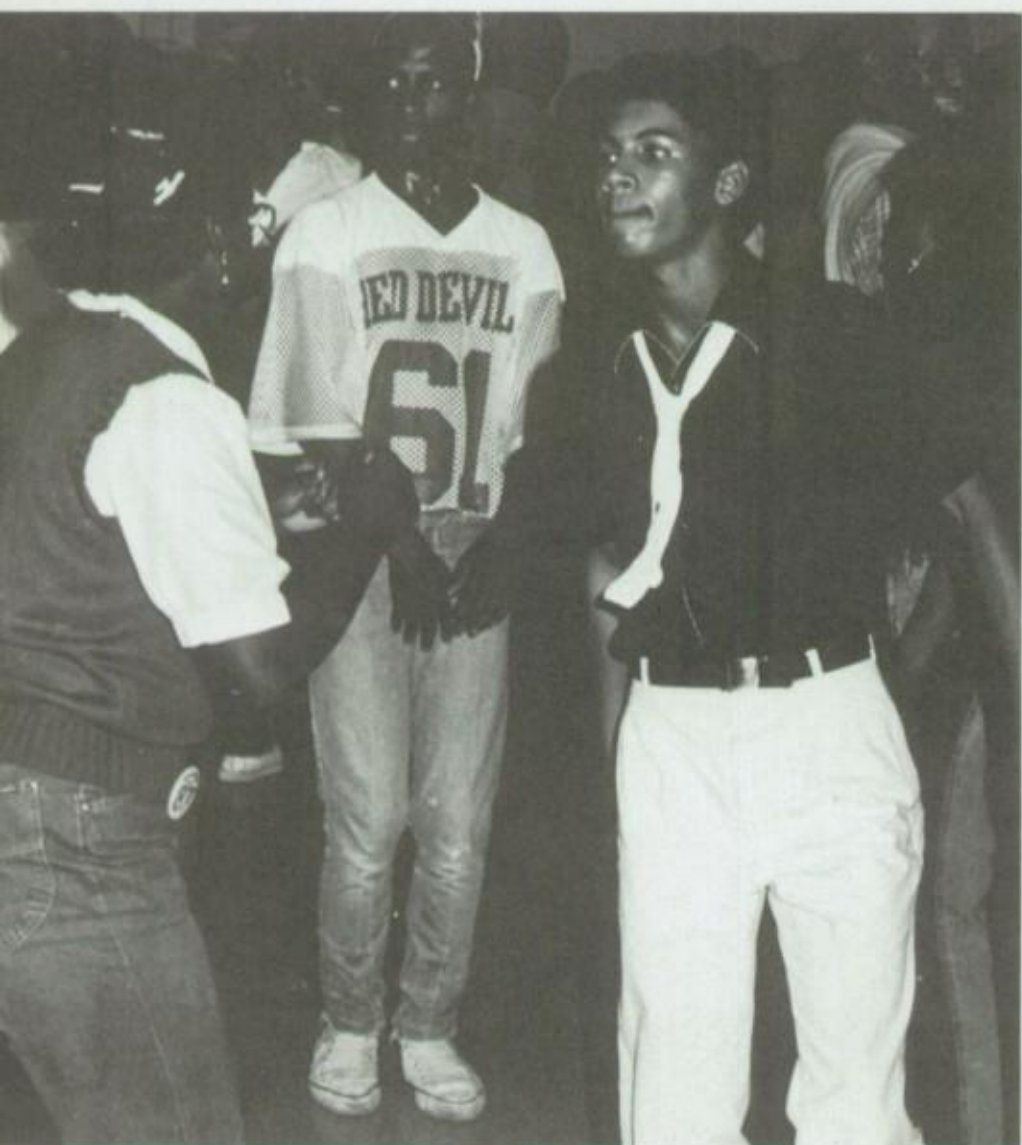

Sophomore Academic Letter: Carl Byrd, Sharon Carter, Rebecca Gardner, Brian Gifford, Patty Henry, Malcolm King, Sharon Lykins, Tracy Ritter, Todd Simpkins, Richard Tillis.

Senior Academic Letter: Elaina Fair, Martha Hendrickson, Pamela Jarrell, Tobias Latham, William May, Faith Miliam, Ronald Music, Jeff Preston, Shelia Thomas

"It was very exciting being chosen by my peers for homecoming queen. I don't believe that it really hit me until the next day. I think everyone looks forward to homecoming — choosing a king and queen and attending the dance and parade. I felt it an honor to be nominated for queen and grateful that they felt me worthy of holding that position.

Homecoming

It was hard to tell who was happier when he won homecoming king, Jay or his family and friends. He hadn't expected to win. The official celebration was the homecoming dance with his girlfriend, but he hinted at our reporters that we should have been at the unofficial celebration afterwards for the real fun. Winning to him did not mean that he was the most handsome or most popular, but simply a well-rounded student.

Service Above Self

At this assembly we are recognizing those students who have given extra of themselves so that we at Marion benefit from their efforts. Everyone knows who these students are. They are the ones who are often behind the scenes making phone calls, working on set-ups, or organizing the activities here at school. I would like to thank the parents for their efforts. In transporting and assisting their children. It is the example you set that is often followed by these young adults.

Six years ago a committee was formed and they established the following criteria as guidelines for selecting students to receive the Service about Self Award.

The student must respect the rules of the school, the community, himself, and others.

The student must participate in services to the school and community beyond those which result in personal gain. One must truly give of one's self.

The student must be supportive of the activities of the school, for example, as a volunteer office worker who assists the school in operating smoothly or as a club member who upgrades the activities of that club beyond the call of duty.

These are the students we wish to recognize. We appreciate their help and we thank them.

Stephen Tankovich

I take great pride in commending all those person responsible for this assembly today. Those of you who are not being honored officially by certificates of paper are yet being honored by having these personalities as peers. Parents, you should be commended for providing the home environment conducive to such achievements. Teachers at Marion-Franklin — High School — you should be commended for first, stimulating and motivating such leaders, and secondly, for providing an occasion that their achievemnts might be recognized.

To the honorees, you are to be commended on your achievements. You should be warned however that this is only the beginning. Now you can never turn back to the leisure life of allowing someone else to make all your decisions. You are now marked young men and women. Today's recognition is only a stepping stone into future responsibilities. Businesses are waiting for you. Colleges are waiting for you. Society is waiting for you.

It costs to lead. Some 2000 years ago a common man said these words which have permeated the scope of history with its truth, "Greater love has no one than this than to give his/her life for friends." You have demonstrated this type of sacrifice for yourselves for this student body. For this you are to be commended.

It will take new fresh young creative minds like yours to rechart our world from a course of war, hatred, and destruction to a new society of peace and harmony. Again, congratulations and my God speed you as you begin your leadership responsibilities in life.

The Prom

This year's prom was held at the Hyatt on Capital Square on Saturday, May 11. Suzy Waud of 92-X was the disc jockey. Dinner began promptly at 7:30; the dance was from 9:00-12:00. Jock Harris, administrative assistant, said that the food was delicious and that it was one of the nicest proms they had had. The seniors received "best of the best" certificates.

Graduation

This year the school graduated approximately 200 students at Veterans Memorial, June 8, 1985 at 10 am. Senior Class president Joseph James Fraley led the Pledge of Allegiance, while senior class chaplain, Tammy Constant led the prayer. The valedictorian, Jeffrey Marc Preston, spoke to the class on "Looking Back" and the salutatorian, Ronald Allen Music, spoke on "Looking Ahead." This year the sermonette and the benediction were delivered by Pastor Randy Snyder. Guest speaker Columbus Public School board member Loretta Heard presented the diplomas as acting Principal Mr. Newman presented the graduating class to her, due to the untimely death of Principal John E. Carter just days prior. In his honor an empty chair sat on the stage.

The 1984 Marion-Franklin Varsity football team was in a rebuilding year. The previous 83 team graduated 21 seniors; consequently, offensive and defensive positions were played by inexperienced players. Only two offensive players returned: Jay Fraley and Clarence Lee. The defensive returners were Jay Fraley, Tim Crenshaw and Todd Roddy. This season allowed young players to get in badly needed experience and playing time though sometimes we had to pull double-duty. Tom Cross, Tim Johnson, Tim Pitts, Steve Skaggs, Jay Fraley, and Todd were asked to play both the defensive and offensive. Coach Powell feels that good things will occur for the 1985 team because of his younger players having the opportunity to get valuable varsity experience. The final record was 2-8 in the Columbus City League Red Division.

Basketball

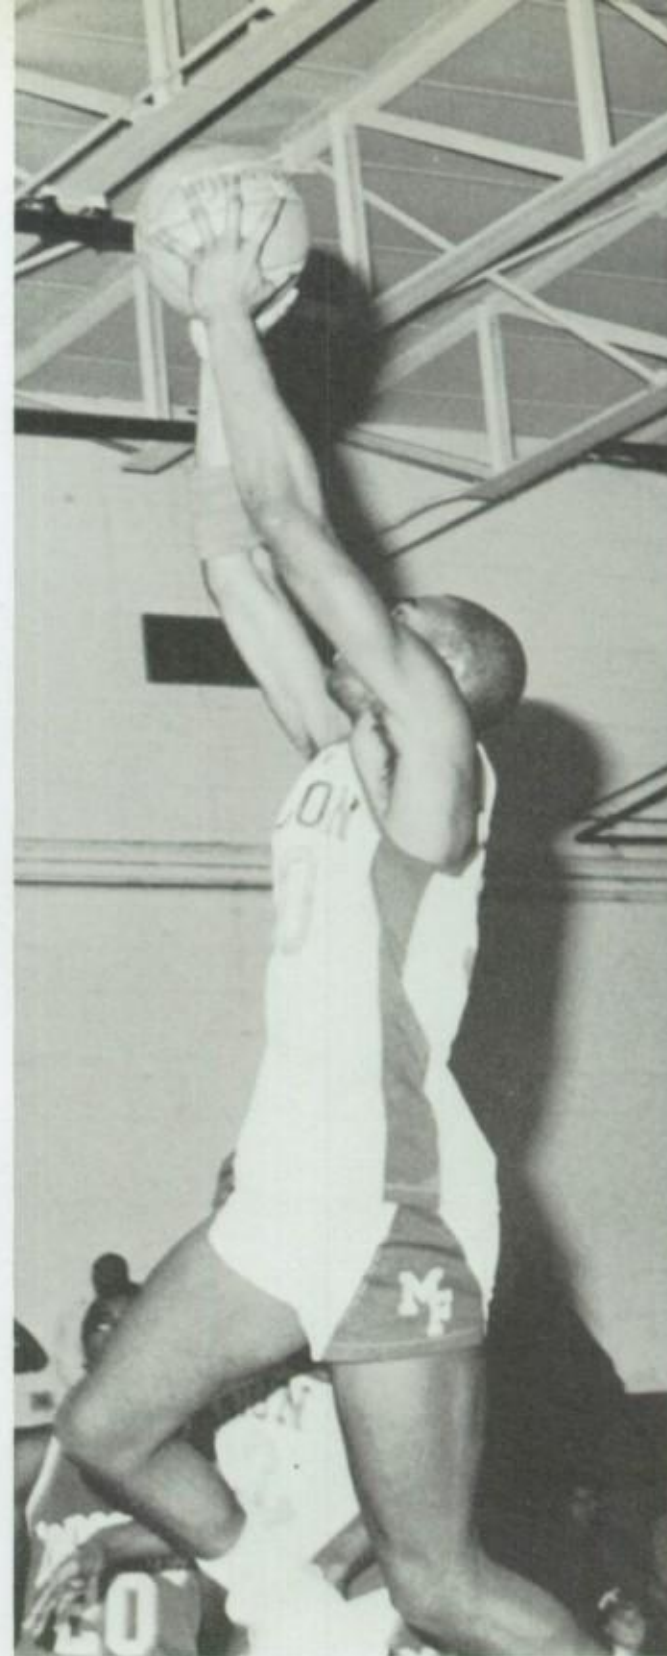

There was no comparison of last year's team which ranked fourth in the state to this year's team. Ten seniors graduated last year, forcing the team to start from scratch. Not only that, Coach Hunt foresaw "no super-stars coming up in the ranks." This year his most valuable players were Tim Crenshaw and Robert Patterson. The most improved player was Jeff Herring. He felt that the most exciting game was when they beat Mifflin at home. Coach Hunt still insists that all his players pass all of their subjects — no failing grades.

Volleyball

Stephanie Jackson is the talented team captain of the varsity volleyball team. She was elected most valuable player in the game against Briggs. The three hour practice for volleyball helps keep her in shape for basketball, and she enjoys it. Volleyball isn't more popular in this country, she feels, because football and basketball are the dominant sports. Her most memorable game was the match against Eastmoor because it was so close. "Either team had a chance to win the game. We won the first game. They won the second, and the third was real close." She feels that South was the most difficult game because of the traditional rivalry between Marion-Franklin and South.

Coach Ball and Coach North, varsity and reserve wrestling coaches, continue to have outstanding seasons. Their goals were to take City, place four in the district and take as many as possible at the state level. Once again, both teams took the city. This year's most valuable player was William White. His other accolades include that of being a district champion, a regional qualifier and Marion's only state qualifier. The other distinct champion was Thomas Pitts. Regional qualifiers included the Following: Tim Barnett, Jeff Pitts, Keith Robinson, Thomas Pitts, and Jay Fraley. Dwight Thomas had the best record with 21-2.

One of the Season's highlights was a seemingly impossible backhand by Lonnie that didn't touch anything but the line and his opponents. Congratulations are in order to Coach Reither for being chosen by his peers (Tennis Coaches) as Boys Tennis Coach of the Year. Mr. Hyre, Superintendent of Columbus Public Schools presented the award to him.

Girl's Tennis

Team Captain Deidre Woods believes that she was selected because she had the qualities of a good leader. She practiced three hours a day and felt her strongest points in tennis were the forehand volleys and forehand shots. Deidre enjoys the game because "tennis uses just about every muscle in the body and helps to build up the cardio-vascular system." She feels that eight or nine is not too young to start the game. Her toughest match was against Linden. Her advice to the whole team was "to concentrate on placing the shots where the opponents weren't."

The Cross Country Team finished the 1984 season with nine team members, including four freshmen. Cross country is a race of 5000 meters (3.1 miles) on grass courses over rolling terrain. Our home course is on the grounds of the Marion-Franklin Recreation Center. Wes Chandler (11th grade) was our team MVP. He had a personal best time of 18:02, placing 7th out of 50 at the Northland Invitational and 23rd out of 80 in the City Championship. Howard Tidwell (12th grade) recorded a best time of 19:43 this year at the Jim Hagan Memorial Race. Matt Collier (11th grade) was injured much of the season but ran well in the Sectional Meet with a time of 18:00. William White (12th grade) also sustained an injury near the end of the season but had a best time of 18:23 at the Red Devil Invitational. Bronsha Howard (12th grade) our girls' MVP achieved All-City ranking for the second year in a row and also placed in the top twenty at the Jim Hagan Memorial Race with a fine time of 21:56. Delmar Stacy (9th grade) received the Outstanding Freshman Award and had a personal best time of 20:13 in the Sectional Meet. Gene Hill (9th grade) ran his best time of 22:10 placing 34th out of 60 in the City Reserve Meet. Tony Daniels (9th grade) had his best time of 23:01 at a meet with Walnut Ridge. Joe Reed (9th grade) ran his best time of 25:00 at the City Reserve Meet.

The highlight of this year's season was our 400 meter relay which placed second in the regional meet and qualified for state competition. Members of the relay were Ashan Givens, Johnny Tutt, Terrance Harris, and Roy Jones. The team MVP was Tom Cross who totaled 9 points while finishing second in the city high jump and second in the district long jump. Fine performances were also turned in by Marshall Finney who placed second in the city mile run and third in the district. His best time was 4:28.1. Tom Pitts placed first in the central district indoor championship in the long jump with a distance of 21'10³/₄"

Tim Stegell catching.

At the beginning of the baseball season in late March, Coach Ferguson was confident that his seniors, Jack Mounts and Keith Salyer, could lead the Devils to a City League South Championship.

With only four city games left in early April, Ferguson's hopes were gone. He knew that his team could not possibly catch undefeated Briggs and win the city title.

But he still spoke enthusiastically about Salyer and Mounts.

"They were the catalyst for the season. They've been the leaders and they've led by example," said Ferguson.

He leans into base.

Look out!

It's a hit!

After high school Mounts and Salyer will be continuing in baseball.

Mounts, whose Grade Point Average (2.77) and Batting average (.393) are equally high, will be traveling to Ohio Dominican College on an academic athletic scholarship. Mounts, who also received offers from Otterbein College and the United States Marine Corps, picked Ohio Dominican because, "They're ranked 14th in the Nation in baseball and they have criminal justice, which I want to major in."

Keith Salyer's future in baseball is not as sure. For him it is a waiting one.

Mr. Robert Shaw, a scout for the Philadelphia Phillies, told Coach Ferguson that he was definitely looking at Salyer as a potential draft choice, but would like Keith to go to college and get more experience. Salyer said, "I'd like to be given a chance to be in the Minor Leagues . . . I might go to Ohio Dominican with Jack."

Does Salyer have the ability to play Major league ball?

"Absolutely," said Ferguson, "He's 6'1". He carries around 180 lbs. He has a gun for an arm and he hits the ball hard. He has all the tools."

The reserve and varsity softball teams had rocky starts this year. Though many girls tried out, few were experienced or could play well enough to make the team. Consequently, the reserve team consisted primarily of inexperienced players, and some games were defaulted because of a lack of players. In fact, some girls played on both reserve and varsity.

Stephanie was one of four starting freshman on varsity. She had three years playing experience with Hamilton Township Summer League, slow pitch.

As a center fielder, she felt that varsity's strength lay in their fielding ability. The games that were lost were lost because of hitting. Stephanie had great team spirit.

In Memorial

Principal John E. Carter

April 28, 1933 -

June 1, 1985

On April 28, 1933, in Kimball, West Virginia, John Edward Carter was born to the late John P. and Mary Jane Carter. He departed this life on June 1, 1985, at St. Anthony Hospital at the young age of 52.

John met and married Melvin M. Swann while both were attending Bluefield State College, in Bluefield, West Virginia; and from this union was one son, John Edward Carter Jr., (Sandra) and two daughters, Linda Marie Carter and Tonya Viola Carter.

John E. Carter was a U.S. Army Veteran and a member of the Raintree Golf Club. He spent many enjoyable days golfing with friends. Also, he was a member of the Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity and the past president of the Bluefield State Chapter.

He majored in education while at Bluefield State College. This was a logical area to study because he loved young people and had all of the attributes necessary for such a demanding profession. He taught math and science for several years at Champion Junior High School. His students loved him because of his knowledge, kindness and his desire for them to excel in the classroom.

John E. Carter later returned to the college classroom and earned a Masters Degree in Educational Administration at the Ohio State University. His first administrative assignment was at Franklin Junior High School, as an assistant principal. Next, he served as assistant principal at South High School. His first principalship was at Roosevelt High School. Subsequently, he served as principal at Mohawk Junior-Senior High School and finally, principal at Marion Franklin School. In all of his administrative assignments he earned the love and respect of his students, staff members and parents. He did this by setting high standards of performance for his staff and high educational expectations for his students. Furthermore, he held everyone accountable for his high standards and high educational expectations.

John E. Carter observed many racial injustices in the education system during his teaching and administrative experiences. Those observations troubled him and caused him to be anxious to do his part to mitigate racial injustices. In this regard, he was appointed to the Columbus Public Schools Desegregation Planning Committee in 1977. He played an important role in the elimination of racial segregation in the Columbus Public School System. As well, he was instrumental in helping to organize the Columbus Black Administrators Association, an organization dedicated to the ideals of justice and equality in public education. He served as past president of CBAA and significantly advanced the cause of Blacks in Columbus. He will always be remembered as a quietly effective, no-nonsense educator who left behind huge prints in the sands on the beachhead of education in Columbus.

He leaves to cherish his memories: a devoted wife, three children, sisters Rebecca Carter, Baltimore, Md., Bertha Miller, Washington D. C., Thelma Carter, Axton, Va., brothers Donald Carter, Waynesboro Pa., Roy, Robert, William, Allonso, Henry, and Ralph Carter, all of Axton, Va., granddaughter, Lindsay Carter, Columbus, and a host of relative and friends.

To Amy:

A very cute and intelligent friend who never gave me a chance.
I hope you find a man who is just like me so you'll know what you missed. Good luck in future years.

Your friend,
Mr. Tim Lyles
